Indigo co-founder Gangwal steps down from board

Rakesh Gangwal resigned from board of directors of the airline's parent company InterGlobe Aviation on Friday

The 69-year-old co-promoter, who currently owns 37% shares of the company, said he will reduce his stake over the next five years

Such a gradual reduction of his stake, he said, will allow him to benefit from some of the upside. In the meantime, to avoid exposure to any unpublished sensitive information, he will step down from the board

His resignation comes days after the board appointed co-founder Rahul Bhatia, with whom Gangwal had sparred for long, as the Managing Director of InterGlobe Aviation | P13

Ahmedabad blasts: Death for 38

Special court hands life imprisonment to 11 others for deadly 2008 serial bombings

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

A special court on Friday handed down death penalty to 38 out of 49 convicts in the 2008 Ahmedabad serial blasts case and life imprisonment till death to the remaining 11. This is the first time in India's judicial history that so many accused have been awarded capital punishment in a single case. Earlier, 26 people were sentenced to death in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case.

At least 56 people were killed and 246 injured in the back-to-back bombings that rocked the commercial capital of Gujarat on July 26, 2008. Then little known Indian Mujahideen (IM) claimed responsibility for the blasts, which also targeted hospitals, terming it a "revenge" for the 2002 Gujarat riots. Former SIMI leader Safdar Nagori and Usman Agarbattiwala are among those sentenced to death. All the convicts have also been fined with ₹2.85 lakh each, while Agarbattiwala has been slapped a higher penalty of ₹2.88 lakh for 26 different offences under IPC, UAPA and Explosive Substances Act. The arguments on the quantum of sentence had concluded on Tuesday, and the court of special judge A R Patel kept the matter of judgment for Friday. A total of 78 accused were prosecuted in the case and the special court held 49 guilty, acquitting 28 others by giving them the benefit of doubt. The court also pardoned one accused, who turned approver. However, trial is yet to begin for four other accused including IM's co-founder and the mastermind behind the bombings Yasin Bhatkal, who was already sentenced to death in 2016 by a Hyderabad court for the twin blasts in 2013.

The prosecution sought the death penalty for all 49 convicts, while the defence lawyers pleaded for leniency considering their social and economic conditions. Counsel for the accused said he will study the judgment before deciding on challenging it.

21 bombs went off in various localities of Ahmedabad on July 26, 2008

56 people were killed and more than 200 injured

The Indian Mujahideen (IM) claimed responsibility for the blasts

The trial began in Dec 2009 against 78 persons linked to IM

HIJAB ROW: FIR FILED AGAINST 15 PU GIRLS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Tumakuru

THE police registered cases against 15 girl students of a government pre-university college in Tumakuru on charges of violating the prohibitory orders imposed under Section 144 of IPC. Around 40 girl students at the Government Empress Junior PU college near Townhall here had staged a protest by raising slogans when they were denied entry inside classrooms for wearing hijab and burqa on Wednesday.

They took out a rally for a short time and a small distance when the deputy commissioner's prohibitory orders were in force. On Thursday, Assistant Commissioner Ajay held a meeting with Deputy Director of Pre-University Education Gangadhar and college principal Shanmukhappa. Later, on the instructions of the assistant commissioner, the principal filed a complaint with the police, who registered the FIR. The FIR, however, does not name any student, official sources said. Meanwhile, a group of students along with their parents and two teachers protested near Mini Vidhana Soudha on Thursday evening and they demanded a meeting with the deputy commissioner to present their appeal. Later, Tahsildar Mohan Kumar G V met them.

Student with tilak stopped at Indi college

MAHESH M GOUDAR @Vijayapura

The hijab controversy is now taking a different turn as lecturers denied entry to a student with vermilion (tilak) on his forehead in Indi town on Friday.

As he was restricted from entering the campus, the student, Gangadhar Badiger, started arguing with college authorities and he was joined by his classmates. The lecturers said that applying vermilion represents a particular religion and is in violation of the Karnataka High Court's interim order which prohibits display of any religious identity in schools and colleges.

As the argument heated up, the police intervened and sent him to class, putting an end to the issue. But the situation remained tense for a few hours in the college and the police were deployed till the end of college hours.

CBI grills former NSE chief over ties with mysterious 'Himalayan baba'

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

THE CBI, which had registered a case against former NSE MD & CEO Chitra Ramkrishna in the co-location matter in 2018, on Friday grilled her on the email exchanges between her an unknown person.

The investigating agency also issued a lookout circular against Ramkrishna, her predecessor Ravi Narain and her then advisor Anand Subramanian to ensure they don't leave the country.

The CBI swooped down on Ramkrishna's residence in suburban Mumbai at 10 am Friday and the grilling was expected to last 10 hours, sources said. Since the Maharashtra government withdrew general consent to CBI to investigate cases in the state in 2020 in the wake of the TRP scandal, the central agency is probing her under an old case registered against her.

Chitra Ramakrishna

"CBI is quizzing Ramkrishna on the emails between her and her so-called spiritual mentor in which she has divulged sensitive and confidential details about the NSE as cited in the SEBI's recent order," said a person aware of the developments. "The questioning is to ascertain whether any pecuniary benefit accrued to her or the Unknown person and whether there was misuse of office ." It is learnt that Ramkrishna maintained the same line with CBI sleuths that she took with Sebi, that the sharing of information didn't cause any financial loss to NSE.

SC tells UP to refund CAA protesters' fines

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday directed the Uttar Pradesh government to refund damages recovered from alleged anti-CAA protestors accused of destroying public property.

The UP government had sent notices to protesters to recover damages during the protests in December 2019.

Last week, the SC directed the government to withdraw the notices. On Friday, the state government informed the court that it has withdrawn 274 notices.

The court, then, asked the government to refund the money collected thus far. However, it allowed the state to recover damages under the new law — Uttar Pradesh Recovery of Damage to Public and Private Property Act, 2020 — after establishing before the claims tribunal that public properties were indeed damaged.

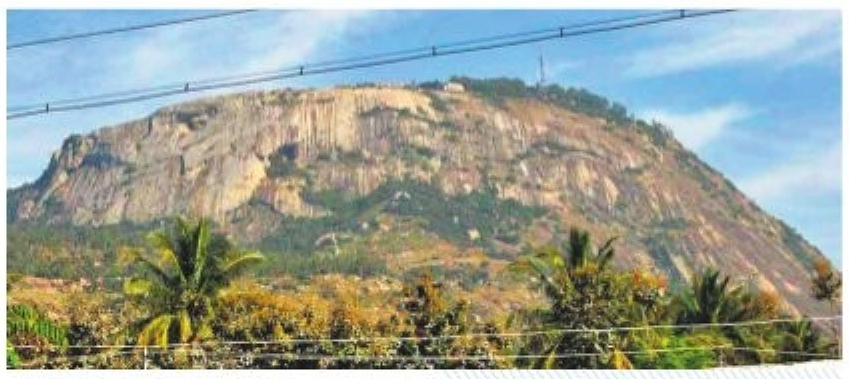
₹93.4 crore Nandi Hills ropeway to run 2.93 km

Environmentalists see red, say it could disturb region's ecosystem

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru



The project will cost Rs 93.4 crore

ARE you someone who loves to watch the sunrise perched atop the famous Nandi Hills? Then here is some good news for you. The Karnataka Cabinet on Friday gave its approval for the construction of a ropeway at Nandi Hills under the public-private-participation (PPP) model. This move is expected to boost tourism at Nandi Hills, located in Chikkaballapura district at a distance of 60 km from Bengaluru.

The ropeway is expected to built at a cost of Rs 93.40 crore and will be created under the Design Build Operate Transfer Model.The ropeway will be 2.93km long and will have 18 towers. Each round-trip will take 28 minutes. Cabinet has approved 50 cabins for the ropeway project where passengers will be seated. In one cabin, 10 people can be accommodated.

"A feasibility study was done and the model on which the project can be executed has been prepared. Now, tenders will be floated and the companies will submit their expression of interests. Many individuals and companies have visited Nandi Hills and given their ideas. Even though the Cabinet has approved the project, orders are now awaited to start the next course of work," an official from the Tourism Department told TNIE. Officials in the government, however, admit that clearance and a feasibility study from the Forest Department is still pending.

"Forest Department approval is essential as pillars need to be erected in forest land. But this subject of obtaining clearance will arise when the expression of interest is to be obtained," the official said.

Forest officials, however, are not keen on the execution of the project as they feel that the fragile ecosystem will be disturbed. "The forest here is different. It houses sloth bears, leopards and small and large herbivores and carnivores. The area is also prone to forest fire. The sensitivity of the region and the pressure it has been experiencing since the last many years is visible as the region has experienced many earthquakes, landslides and washing down of mud from the hill accumulated over the years. Last year's unprecedented and untimely rain has made the forest here more vulnerable. Such projects will not just hamper the fragile biodiversity, but make it vulnerable to more such incidents as no ecological study has been done here ever," said a forest department official.

Chikkaballapura MLA and Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar tweeted, "With the ropeway project, Nandi Hills will become an international tourist destination. The site is already famous for its rich biodiversity, trekking, viewpoint and historic Bhoganandeshwara temple."

Vrishabhavathi water for irrigation

BENGALURU: The Karnataka Cabinet on Friday gave administrative approval to a project worth Rs 840 crore to treat the Vrishabhavathi river water and supply it to farmers in Nelamangala taluk in Bengaluru Rural district and Tumakuru taluk to raise crops. The project will not only help the revival of the river in which Bengaluru's sewage flows, but also help in filling of tanks in the dry region.

India Global Forum to be held in city

ENS @ Bengaluru

FINANCE and Corporate Affairs Minister Nirmala Sitharaman will be one of the speakers at the 3rd India Global Forum, an annual international business summit. The forum, which will be held in India for the first time, is to be held on March 7 and 8 in Bengaluru. Speakers include a number of ministers, like Finance Minister Sitharaman and External Affairs and Culture Minister Meenakshi Lekhi, as well as numerous founders and co-founders of major companies, including Mohandas Pai, chairman of Manipal Global Education.

Previous editions of the summit were held in Dubai and Australia, with India Inc Group, a London-based publishing house, hosting the forum. Celebrating India's 75 years of Independence, the conference will study the nation's growth after the pandemic.

In addition, the conference aims to explore themes on the lines of business diplomacy, cultural economies and creative industries, and how diplomacy has changed in a global setting. "India Global Forum is where India meets the World, and the World meets India. As India heralds a new era of entrepreneurship and innovation, IGF's The New India Inc. will showcase India as the world's next big growth engine," said Manoj Ladwa, founder of IGF.

Garbage not lifted, will pile up over weekend

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

PREPARE yourself for a stinky weekend. Garbage was not collected on Friday, and is unlikely to be picked up until Monday. A prolonged delay in paying wages and payments to garbage contractors and collectors has led to the crisis, and contractors and unions have taken an adamant stand. In such a crisis, citizens are advised to manage household waste wisely.

"Our demand for clearing payments is pending with the finance section of the BBMP from a very long time. Due to this, payment of ESI and PPF of workers is pending and penalties are increasing. We cannot be begging at every table of BBMP staffers to get payments cleared, and we refuse to pay bribes. If BBMP does not want to pay and does not want to clear the pending dues, they cannot expect service also. No garbage will be collected," said a member of the Garbage Contractors' Association.

As news spread that garbage was not collected on Friday morning and compactors and trucks did not reach landfill sites, panic set in the BBMP solid waste management section and the head office. Day-long meetings were held with BBMP SWM teams and garbage contractors' unions, but no conclusion was reached.

BBMP Joint Commissioner, SWM, Sarfaraz Khan confirmed that garbage was not collected on Friday, but said all efforts are being made to reach a consensus and ensure that garbage collection restarts at the earliest. According to BBMP records, the city generates around 1,400 tonnes of waste every day. Garbage collection and management is listed as an essential service by the government, and proper disposal and management is mandatory as per SWM rules of 2016.

An agitated and embarrassed BBMP official stated: "Instead of effective inter-government agencies coordination, BBMP should first ensure there is effective inter-department coordination in BBMP. Due to the delay and non-prioritisation of finances, the SWM section is forced to clear up not just the city, but issues inside the BBMP and also plead before garbage contractors."

DRUMROLLS OF PROTEST

Members of Dalit Sangharsha Samithi beat drums to demand the suspension of the BBMP administrator, in Bengaluru on Friday. They accused the official of misusing funds meant for SCs and STs | VINOD KUMAR T

Signal clash? Metal sheath for suburban rail section, Namma Metro to roll above

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

FOR the first time, a metallic sheath is to be created to shield a portion of the upcoming suburban rail network at Benniganahalli, to avoid any signal clash with the Metro Rail infrastructure constructed just above it. This is in light of an Indian Institute of Science study that recommended it, so that both transport networks can co-exist at the same location.

According to BMRCL officials, there is apprehension that the elevated KR Puram to Airport line might suffer some signalling issues at Benniganahalli, from the Heelalige-Rajanakunte line (Kanaka Line) of the upcoming suburban rail network that would run one level below it. The two rail networks would overlap for a distance of over 500 metres.

"We had asked Karnataka Rail Infrastructure Development Agency (K-RIDE) to get us a No Objection Certificate from a third party agency. Since signalling plays a crucial role in operations of both rail networks, we wanted to be completely confident on this count. K-RIDE roped in IISc to conduct a detailed study and has ruled out any signal interference. However, it recommended a shield for 400m as a matter of abundant caution," a senior official said.

BMRCL has given the go-ahead to K-RIDE to create this special infrastructure, he added.

Specifying the technical details, another official said that Metro trains run on 750 volts DC traction, which is supplied using a third rail, while suburban rail would run using 25KV AC traction, and there was apprehension of some electro magnetic interference of the two power supply modes. "Simulation studies were conducted by IISc, with various options of earthing and varying distances. Possible recommendation for mitigation of EMI have been suggested by them," the official added.

The Metro airport line has a December 2024 deadline.

Party members express concern over funds used to develop parks

ENS@ Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the Bengaluru Navanirmana Party (BNP) have started a campaign, Lekka Beku, to draw attention to disproportionate investments made to develop parks in Jayanagar East.

They said BBMP and uthorities spent Rs 3 crore to create the park at Nimhans, but have not opened it for the public. The money spent on improving parks and their surroundings in Jayanagar's ward 170 is much more than creating a new park, they pointed out."In all, 37 projects related to improving parks and their surroundings, worth Rs 6.55 crore, were allocated for ward 170. Of them, six projects were executed with a budget of Rs 5.57 crore in the last five years. Though the parks are in a decent condition, the budget spent does not add up to what is seen at these parks," a BNP member said.

Also, Rs 1.5 crore was spent on ornamental grills and other works at Nimhans park. Further, Rs 99 lakh was spent on improving the park and surrounding areas. Rs 3 crore was spent on improvements at Nimhans park, which is the smallest (5,000 sqft) in the area, the member said.

Residents complained that runners do not have access to parks after 10 am or are restricted from running during regular hours.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

19th February : The week comes to an end. Or does it? For one thing it's only the conventional western system which ends on Saturday. For another, in astrology there are no such things as beginnings and endings, only constantly interlocking, endless cycles, moving from one phase to another in an endless cycle of creation!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
As time passes, new contacts and associati-ons will be reassuring you that home and family affairs are on the right path. Hopefully a recent dispute with a relative should now be resolved, or at least within sight of resolution. One last push should do it.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You have now entered an exciting phase at home, but it's one which could also be described as demanding and challenging. However, it is not clear yet whether the focus will be on personal relationships or repairs and decoration. Trouble is, you just can't decide!

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
As a new astrological cycle begins, why not hold back and let the dust settle before pressing ahead with financial enterprises. It may be that recent personnel changes have resulted in a changed situation, one which may be more to your liking.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Your planets are hitting a vigorous note. This has been a strange period for many Cancerians. Some of you have come through unscathed but others are now in need of all the love and affection you can get in order to restore your battered morale.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Let me temper your confidence and enthusiasm with a long-term consideration: in about three weeks you will enter a period of domestic or family change. Therefore, why don't you use your present position to lay foundations for the future? Use your grey matter - and think ahead.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Be positive. And if you can't be positive at least don't be gloomy! It is fortunate that irrational fears will no longer hold you back, but there is no reason why you should allow them to succeed. You have far too much to gain from pressing forward to be put off, now.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Happily, continuing positive patterns coming from the Sun, Venus, Mercury and Saturn should deal with your lingering insecurities and give you the nerve to deal with people whose actions have, perhaps unwittingly, undermined your self-confidence.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Mars, your tough planetary ruler, is now doing its very best. For the first time it may be possible to gauge and predict the future progress of your ambitions, at least over the next three weeks. I'd say it's about another seven weeks before you're completely in the clear, though.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Energetic Mars is reinforcing your adventur-ous instincts and this is indeed a suitable time for a holiday, other commitments permitting! Intriguing travel influences continue for many weeks, so take your time. And, if you are held back by work and family commitments, try to make them as enjoyable as you can.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You'll be in fighting form and the battle over the latest financial or business matters may have only just begun. Yet please do not set up aunt-sallies where no problem existed, or fight imaginary and time-consuming battles. In other words, please stick to the facts!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Now that passionate Mars' deepening relationship to your sign is taking hold, you are beginning to see that this is a time of excitement and energy. Many astrologers say that periods such as this are the most creative and fulfilling. It's certainly potentially prosperous.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
If we look ahead a little way, we can get a better fix on where you're at now. And, since the Sun is approaching a series of beneficial conjunctions, a great period of domestic improvement is soon to begin. First, though, you must ask yourself whether you are now in a position to make the most of your opportunities.

Test positivity rate falls below 4% in all districts

Highest TPR in B'luru Rural at 3.09%; Oct-Nov crucial: Expert

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

HERE is some good news for Karnataka on the Covid-19 front. All the 30 districts (newly carved Vijayanagara is calculated under Ballari district) have recorded a test positivity rate (TPR) of under 4 per cent and 21 of them below the state average of 1.69 per cent. With this, the Union Health Ministry has listed Karnataka among the states having a TPR of below 5 per cent.

According to the Covid-19 state war room, TPR of the districts has been continuously falling when compared to a few weeks ago when the figure hovered between 10 and 15 per cent. In some cities like Bengaluru, TPR had shot up to 33 per cent in the second week of January.

As per the latest numbers, Koppal has the least TPR at 0.23 per cent and Bengaluru Rural has the highest at 3.09 per cent.

"While it is a clear indication that Karnataka is now in the endemic phase, we have to be careful during the months of October and November, when the earlier three waves began. People should continue to wear masks and get vaccinated," explained Dr C N Manjunath, nodal officer for labs and testing in the state's Covid-19 task force and member of the state clinical experts committee.

Appreciating the health department officials and also members of the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC), Chairperson of TAC, Dr M K Sudarshan, said, "During the third wave, we have sort of hit the bull's eye. We knew exactly what steps were to be taken and how to contain the virus. Home isolation was managed extremely well and hospitalisation was also reduced. Deaths were slightly high but many of them were due to comorbidities. Now, in very few districts, the positivity rate is hovering around 2-3 per cent and is coming down day by day," he elaborated.

Meanwhile, TAC will be meeting soon to discuss on the third serosurvey that is being planned and also on mitigatory measures and preparedness for any new variant, if any.

"Our experts are closely observing the mathematical models and information from several countries. This time we followed the Sutra model and it was very apt. Our researchers' mathematical models and predictions will also be observed," Dr Sudarshan added.

Golden retriever Mamo and labradors Pinky and Niru at their farewell on Friday

Sniff, sniff... 3 CISF canines retire after stellar service

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

AFTER serving for more than a decade, three canines which were a crucial part of the Bomb Detection and Disposal squad of the Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) at the Bengaluru's Kempegowda International Airport were given a fond farewell on Friday.

The three superheroes are—two female labradors, Pinky and Niru, and a male Golden retriever, Mamo.

"The three were part of the anti-sabotage team and contributed immensely towards maintaining the security of the airport. They were inducted into the security in September 2012 and have had a glorious career since then," a senior CISF official said.

The trio have conducted anti-sabotage checks, sweeping operations and have carried out thousands of sniffing acts in connection with unattended baggage at the terminal apart from carrying out vehicle checks, the official added.

The heartwarming aspect is that two of the dogs were adopted by their respective dog handlers while the third one was adopted by a dog-friendly CISF constable at the airport.

Much appreciation was showered on the trio on Friday. CISF personnel recalled the exceptional service rendered by them.

Robot helps in woman to daughter kidney transplant

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A woman donated her kidney to save the life of her 12-year-old daughter, suffering from end-stage kidney failure. A private hospital in the city conducted the paediatric robot-assisted living donor kidney transplant.

According to Dr Mohan Keshavamurthy and Dr Sreeharsha Harinatha, lead doctors from the Department of Urology, Uro Oncology, Kidney Transplant and Robotic Surgery from Fortis Hospitals who operated on the girl, said Rakshitha (name changed) was undergoing dialysis since one year.

"She was diagnosed with Lupus Nephritis (an autoimmune disease that causes immune system to produce proteins called autoantibodies which attack one's own tissues and organs, including the kidneys) along with hypertension and dilated cardiomyopathy with Ejection Fraction (EF) of 26 per cent," Dr Mohan Keshavamurthy said.

Doctors said cardiovascular disease accounts for a mortality rate of 36 per cent among all paediatric patients with such a condition, 34 per cent among those undergoing dialysis, and 11 per cent of all paediatric deaths after transplantation. However, the team of doctors ensured that the surgery was successful. The child withstood the procedure well and creatinine normalised to 0.46mg/dl on the third postoperative day.

Dr Mohan Keshavamurthy, Director - Urology, Fortis Hospitals, explained, "Her condition was deteriorating. Owing to her critical condition, the mother decided to donate her kidney. We performed a laparoscopic-assisted donor nephrectomy and Da Vinci Xi Robot assisted paediatric renal transplant recipient surgery successfully."

Man sends obscene videos to women, held

BENGALURU: The CEN police on Thursday arrested a 26-year-old man on charges of calling a newly married couple late at night, and sending obscene videos on their social media accounts. A case was registered under section 67 and 67(A) of the Information Technology Act against the accused, Harish, a resident of Arakalgudu in Hassan, who works as a JCB operator. A senior police officer said Harish had managed to collect the mobile numbers of 10 women, and used to send obscene photographs. He used to call them late at night and force them to speak with him. He had been harassing many women for the last three months. One of the victim's husbands filed a complaint with the police. In a swift operation, the police nabbed Harish after tracking his call records. ENS

Duo held for stabbing biker in robbery bid

BENGALURU: Bagaluru police on Friday arrested two men who were involved in as many as eight criminal cases, and had recently committed a robbery after stabbing a biker. The accused have been identified as Syed Imran (28) and Afsar Baig (19), residents of Hennur. A senior police officer said that the duo had attacked a private company employee on Bellahalli Road on February 7, and tried to snatch his bag. The victim resisted and raised an alarm, prompting passers-by to rush to his help. However, the accused stabbed him in the chest before escaping. Based on a complaint, the police tracked down the accused after examining the CCTV footage. The duo have been taken into custody for further investigations. ENS

Reforms panel suggests 33% quota for women in Home dept

Karnataka Administrative Reforms Commission has submitted two more reports with recommendations for seven other departments too

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Administrative Reforms Commission-2, headed by former chief secretary T M Vijay Bhaskar, has recommended 33 per cent horizontal reservation for women in recruitment of constables and non-gazetted staff in the Home Department.

The Commission, which submitted its second and third reports to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, noted that women's representation in nongazetted police staff in Karnataka is just 8.3 per cent as on 2020. The state has mandated 25 per cent reservation for women in recruitment of constables and other posts. Also, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs, in 2015, had advised all states to reserve 33 per cent vacancies for women so as to increase their representation in the police forces.

The Commission also noted that citizens often feel hesitant to visit police stations. The Police Department provides more than 32 citizen services. In order to bring the public and the police closer, citizen services help desks may be established in all police stations and a provision may be made in the Police Manual to institutionalise it, the Commission said.

Towards bringing in more transparency, it has recommended rules for transfer of Group-C and Group-D employees through computerised counselling in all the departments.The reports also mentioned that all departments are deploying staff outsourced staff without ensuring due representation to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. The State Government may issue an order that outsourcing agencies should provide suitable representation to SCs and STs when they outsource personnel provided by them to various government departments, it said.

The Commission also recommended the merger of many entities like the BDA and BMRDA, Panchayat Raj Engineering Department with Karnataka Rural Road Development Agency, Karnataka State Biofuel Development Board with Energy Department, etc.

The first report of the Commission was submitted in July 2021 with recommendations for three departments including Revenue, Food and Civil Supplies and also Transport. This time, the recommendations are for eight departments — Home, Energy, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, Social Welfare, ST Welfare, Backward Classes Welfare and Minority Welfare Departments.

MAJOR RECOMMENDATIONS

- ▶ State government may decide that no file in Secretariat shall more more than three or four stages. At present, files are moving in five to 10 stages
- ▶ Government may utilise post offices for delivery of state citizen services.
- ▶ Organisations such as the BDA, KHB and KIADB are issuing khatas for sites allotted by them in the limits of gram panchayats, depriving the Gram Panchayats of property tax. Panchayats should collect property tax.

- ▶ Coordination committees may be constituted under the chairmanship of zonal commissioners in BBMP and City Commissioner in other corporations.
- ▶ Delegation of powers to the zonal Commissioners in BBMP and Deputy Commissioners in BDA to reduce burden on Chief Commissioner and Commissioner, respectively

Congress members stage a protest demanding dismissal of Minister KS Eshwarappa, in the Assembly on Friday

Amid Cong uproar, Houses adjourned till Monday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH Congress members continuing their protest for the fourth day on Friday in both the Houses, seeking dismissal of RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa from the cabinet, Assembly Speaker Vishweshwara Hegde Kageri and Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti adjourned the sessions till Monday.

The opposition party had launched its protest on Tuesday and started the night dharna on Wednesday.

Even after the adjournment of the session, Congress members will continue their night dharna till their demand is met, party leaders said.

Earlier in the day, the Assembly convened for business an hour late at 12 noon, by paying tribute to former MLA G V Mantur (92), who passed away in Bagalkote on Thursday.

Later, Congress MLAs, led by Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, trooped to the well of the House and raised slogans against Eshwarappa, calling him a 'traitor'. They even called him a puppet of the RSS and urged the Chief Minister and Speaker to dismiss him from the cabinet.

As many appeals by the Speaker to the protesting members to cooperate went in vain, Law Minister J C Madhuswamy suggested taking action against the protesters. However, Speaker took the call to adjourn the session till Monday.

In the Upper House, as soon as the proceedings began, Congress legislators demanded that Eshwarappa be dismissed from the Cabinet. They entered the well of the House, holding placards and raising slogans against the senior minister. Congress MLC Saleem Ahmed dragged the name of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah and criticised them.

BJP MLCs too raised slogans against their Congress counterparts and said a case should be booked against Congress MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan for his statement linking rape to women's clothing. As the House was not in order, Chairman Basavaraj Horatti adjourned the proceedings for 10 minutes.

When the House reconvened, Leader of Opposition BK Hariprasad made it clear that they would not withdraw the protest until they get an assurance from the State Government of action against Eshwarappa.

BJP MLC MK Pranesh requested the Chairman to take action against those who do not uphold the dignity of the House.

In reply, Horatti said he will take stringent action in such cases and adjourned the House till Monday morning, amid protest by Congress MLCs.

Cong issues whip to MLAs on dharna

The Congress has issued a whip to all its legislators asking them to take part in the dharna at Vidhana Soudha till Monday. The party also directed them not to attend any events in their constituencies and postpone any pre-scheduled ones. Dr Ajay Dharamsingh, Congress Chief Whip in the Assembly, issued the whip as per Leader of Opposition Siddaramiah's direction to all party MLAs to take part in the day and night dharna from Friday to Monday without fail.

KSE comment a concern: Satish

Defending the ongoing protest in the Legislative Assembly by Congress legislators, KPCC Working President Satish Jarkiholi on Friday termed the saffron flag statement of RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa as a matter of grave concern for the country. "Today, they (BJP) is trying to replace the Tri Colour and tomorrow they will change the name of the country. Attempts are being made to change the country's history. It is time to prevent the forces from doing more damage," he said.

HIJAB NOT ESSENTIAL PART OF RELIGIOUS PRACTICE: AG TO HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STRONGLY defending the State Government's stand on restricting wearing of the hijab in classrooms, Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi on Friday argued before the Karnataka High Court that the ban is perfectly in accordance with the provisions of Karnataka Education Act.

Pointing out to issues raised by the counsel for the students, who have petitioned the high court questioning the State Government order of February 5, Navadagi contended that the hijab is not an essential part of religious practice, as claimed.

Navadagi argued before the full bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justices Krishna S Dixit and J M Khazi, that prevention of wearing the hijab does not violate the right to freedom of speech and expression guaranteed under Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution. As the government does not want to interfere in such matters, particularly religious issues in educational institutions, a conscious decision was taken to allow college development committees decide on prescribing uniforms, he said.

Contending that the Government Order does not affect any rights of the students, he argued that the 'unfortunate incidents', which occurred, prompted the government to pass the order in question. During the Covid pandemic, temples, masjids and churches were closed. What this reflects is that, in every situation, the state has to examine public order and morality, he argued in support of the ban.

Before the case was adjourned for further hearing, the counsel for the students submitted that the court's interim order is being misused by some educational institutions by asking students to remove the hijab, though the order was restricted to institutions where the CDCs are constituted. This apart, the Minorities Welfare Department has also implemented the interim order in educational institutions coming under it, he added.

The Advocate General objected, saying that there was no cause for action. Then, the bench asked the counsel to file a proper application before the court to take cognisance. The Advocate General will continue further arguments on Monday.

Court declines plea to stop live-streaming

A large number of people have been viewing the proceedings on the hijab issue, being heard by the Karnataka High Court, on the YouTube channel. As on Friday, the channel had recorded more than 23 lakh views and the subscriber base touched 92,000.

Meanwhile, the Karnataka High Court will continue live streaming of the hijab issue. The full bench, headed by Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi, indicated this after hearing the petitioners' counsel and the state, when a request was made to stop the live streaming.

Senior lawyer Ravivarma Kumar submitted that live streaming is causing a lot of problems in the state and is being taken out of context. Live streaming may be discontinued as it has become counterproductive and children are put to untold misery, he pleaded.

Then the Advocate General replied that the arguments of the petitioners' counsel was given live and accordingly, the state's arguments requires to be live-streamed. The CJ then said that the state's arguments too will be live-streamed.

The YouTube channel was launched officially on February 2, after framing rules. Before commencement of hearing on the hijab issue, the number of subscribers for channel were around 19,000. Now, on an average, 10,000 new subscribers added daily.

Siddu wants waqf circular on uniforms withdrawn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Congress on Friday expressed concern over Muslim girls being deprived of education and demanded that the government withdraw the Waqf Department's circular to minority institutions to follow hijab norms as it is contrary to the High Court's order.

Addressing a joint press conference with KPCC president DK Shivakumar, Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah said the HC order is confined to institutions in which College Development Committees (CDCs) have prescribed uniforms and not all colleges come under its ambit. "The Waqf Department has issued a circular stating that the order applies to residential schools and colleges run by the department. There is no CDC in institutions run by the department. So, its circular is contrary to the HC order," the former CM said.

Siddaramaiah, along with a delegation of minorities met Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and urged him to withdraw the circular immediately. "He has assured us of looking into the matter. I urged him to abide by the HC order and immediately withdraw the circular," he added.

'Ruckus outside schools by outsiders'

Bengaluru: Primary and Secondary Minister BC Nagesh on Friday said a few untoward incidents that were reported since the reopening of schools were perpetrated outsiders, and not students. Since the reopening of schools, classes have been conducted peacefully, he told reporters. "However, there have been a few incidents of students creating ruckus at school gates after being denied entry. We have found that most of them are not actually students of the schools," he said.

Cops should take action, says Joshi

Hubballi: Union Minister Pralhad Joshi said on Friday that except students, the police should take stringent action against anyone trying to create disturbance inside and outside school and college premises. Speaking to reporters here on Friday, Joshi said some forces are deliberately stoking the hijab controversy. Stating that the government as well as the police should not remain silent on the violations, he urged the students to attend classes. Warning those instigating innocent students, he said the government should act strictly against such persons.

Hariprasad claims life threat

Bengaluru: Leader of Opposition in the Council, B K Hariprasad, has claimed that he is facing a threat to his life, and orally informed about this to Council chairman Basavaraj Horatti on Friday. When the Council proceedings resumed on Friday, Hariprasad said he is facing a life threat, referring to a meeting by BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel with BJP legislators recently. Hariprasad said he has information that Kateel had "asked his workers to face me" in the meeting. "We have seen what happened to Gauri Lankesh, Dr M M Kalburgi, Govind Pansare and others," he said.

Farmers remind govt to repeal farm laws

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ANGRY leaders from the Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha and Hasiru Sene, who had threatened to lay siege to Vidhana Soudha five days ago, walked in to a meeting with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday, clutching papers that contained their list of demands.

Their first demand was repeal of farm laws in Karnataka as was done by the central government. Bommai replied that they will hold a discussion with opposition parties and take a decision. Retorting, farmer leader Kodihalli Chandrashekar said that when the opposition and their suggestions were not taken into consideration when the bill was tabled, why is the government talking to the opposition now.

Farmer leaders asked why it is taking months to repeal the laws. During the Belagavi session, the farmers had met government representatives and were told that the farm laws would be scrapped during the session in Bengaluru.

Cong to resume Mekedatu padayatra from Feb 27

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Congress will resume its 'Namma Neeru, Namma Hakku' (our water, our right) padayatra demanding implementation of the Mekedatu project, from Ramanagara on February 27. The padayatra was suspended due to a surge in Covid-19 cases last month.

At a press conference, Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said the padayatra will culminate at the National College Grounds in Basavanagudi on March 3. "The rally will be held for five days and all our leaders, workers and the public will take part in the five-day padayatra," he said.

MLA Ramalinga Reddy will lead the padayatra when it enters Bengaluru.

CD gate: SC stays HC order

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Friday stayed the Karnataka High Court order that allowed the Special Investigation Team (SIT), formed to probe a sex CD scandal involving BJP MLA and former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, to submit its final report before the trial court. While hearing the petition filed by the victim, the Apex Court asked the High Court to dispose of the matter on March 9, the next date of hearing. A bench of Justices Indira Banerjee and J K Maheshwari also said no action should be taken on the report of SIT. "Let the High Court decide the matter," the bench said.

Cabinet nod for cutting KPSC viva voce marks

ENS @Bengaluru

IN a significant decision, the State Cabinet on Friday approved reduction of the viva voce marks from 50 to 25 in the Karnataka Administrative Service (KAS) final interview. Earlier, the panel of interviewers including the chairman, all nominated by the government to the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC), the selection authority for the Group A and Group B probationers, were vested with powers to grant 50 marks. In fact, for over a decade, viva voce carried 200 marks, which was reduced to 50 and further reduced now.

After aspirants clear the preliminary examination, they write the main written examination for 1,250 marks and qualify for the viva voce. The average of the marks obtained in the mains and the viva voce determine the final ranking while allotting postings for assistant commissioners and tahsildars. There were allegations of corruption in the past as the candidates who scored less in the mains would come up in the ranking by getting higher marks in viva voce.

Meanwhile, the cabinet also authorised Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to nominate a member to the KPSC in the vacant position.

Kerala Guv delivers policy address amid oppn boycott

Critical references made over enactment of central laws by Union Govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ T'Puram

A day after holding the government to ransom by deferring the signing of the government's policy address till the eleventh hour, Governor Arif Mohammed Khan on Friday delivered the customary address in the Assembly amid an opposition boycott and lukewarm response from the treasury benches.

The address was noted for a few critical references to the Union government over enactment of Central laws on matters listed in the state and concurrent list and slashing the state's share of resources.

"In recent times, legislation by the Union Government is taking place on subjects enumerated in State and concurrent lists, that too without effective consultation with the states. This goes against the grain of cooperative federalism. My government is of the opinion that this should not be a practice to be continued," the Governor said in the policy address on the first day of the fourth session of the 15th legislative assembly.

The Governor also mentioned that there has been a consistent decline in the state share provided from the divisible pool by succeeding Central Finance Commissions. The policy address highlighted that on account of the GST compensation ceasing to exist after June this year, the state would lose about Rs 10,000 to 12,000 crore.

The Governor also criticised the practice of the Union Government to give exemption to the direct taxes that fall in the divisible pool and to raise significant amounts of revenue through cess and surcharges, which are not in the divisible pool. This causes a huge fall in the share of resources due to the state, he said.

No director for Bandipur, top posts vacant

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE crucial post of director at the Bandipur Tiger Reserve (BTR) has been lying vacant for a long time and conservationists have been demanding that the post at the prime forest patch of India be filled at the earliest to continue with the good work of protection. But the Forest Department is struggling to fill this and other important posts across the state, including that of chief conservator of forests (CCF), Deputy Conservators of Forests (DCFs) and Conservators of Forests (CFs).

The situation is so dire that many officers are handling three posts. The shortage is also because of some officers being deputed to non-IFS posts, said a senior forest department official, seeking anonymity.

"The vacant posts can be filled and the burden on those who are handling multiple posts can be eased if the government clears a long-pending proposal of elevating state forest department officers, who have served for 12 years, to the IFS cadre. Twenty-five officers are eligible for such an upgrade, but the file is pending before the state government," the official said.

The prime posts of CCFs at Madikeri, Mysuru, Shivamogga and Chickamagaluru too have been vacant for a long time. Of the 17 posts of directors and conservators of forests, six are vacant. "There are positions and there are vacancies. At some places, the post of director of parks and sanctuaries can be elevated to conservator of forests and it is being done. But, staffers are stretched and attention to conservation sometimes takes a beating," the official pointed out.

Now, Mysuru CF Karikalan also holds the post of Director of Bandipur Tiger Reserve after the tenure of Natesh, who was an IFS officer from Jharkhand, ended in Karnataka on December 29, 2021. After Natesh, many names were floating around for the plum post, and on January 18, two names were shortlisted and placed before the government for consideration. Since then, there has been no movement on the file."

Conservationists said the long delay in appointing the director for BTR at that time of the year when the tiger census was done and the forests are prone to fires exposes the lack of seriousness and foresight of the state government. "When the Karnataka forest department is striving hard to make the state number one in tiger numbers and is working on protection of forests, not filling up vacant posts only indicates that the government is not keen on forest protection," said a conservationist.

Plea in SC on AP bifurcation

ENS @Vijayawada

FORMER MP Undavalli Arun Kumar on Friday filed an urgent hearing petition in the Supreme Court on the legality of the division of united Andhra Pradesh and the passage of the AP Reorganization Act 2014 in Parliament.

He said it is time for the Parliament to apologize to AP for the manner in which the state was divided on February 18, eight years ago. He asserted that the move in Parliament was against the spirit of federalism.

Man kills mother over loan instalment reminder

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

A 45-year-old man ran his jeep over his mother for reminding him to repay the loan instalment.

It is alleged that Nagamma (65) had borrowed money from a cooperative society to buy her son Hemaraj, a native of Hanumantapura village in Periyapatna taluk, a vehicle.

Hemaraj was not prompt in paying the instalments and the mother and son used to fight over the issue. However, on Thursday, when Nagamma reminded him about the instalment, enraged Hemaraj picked a fight with his mother.

When his mother left the place and was returning home, he followed her in a jeep and ran his vehicle over her, killing her on the spot.

Villagers immediately rushed Nagamma to hospital but she was declared dead. Based on the statements of the villagers and relatives, the police arrested the accused.

A case is also registered against the accused at the Bettadapura police station.

Ch'nagar air quality the best : CPCB data

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

CHAMARAJANAGAR has the best air quality among 132 cities in the country, as per the Air Quality Index (AQI) by the Central Pollution Control Board. Though the air quality in Karnataka's Bagalkot (50), Vijayapura (46) and Thoothukudi (39) in Tamil Nadu is good, Chamarajanagar claims an AQI of 36.

According to the data, the air quality of 56 cities is satisfactory, 48 moderate, 26 poor, and Ghaziabad and Ballabgarh's air quality is so poor that it will lead to respiratory illness in healthy people with prolonged exposure, pronounced respiratory or other illnesses in vulnerable population, and avoiding prolonged or strenuous outdoor physical exertion has have advised.

In areas with satisfactory air quality, there will be minor breathing discomfort in the vulnerable population, and in cities with moderate air quality, breathing or other health-related discomfort will be reported in the vulnerable population.

Chamarajanagar district, with 51 per cent of forest cover, three tiger reserves, and thick forest connecting the Tamil Nadu and Kerala borders, has contributed to the air quality.

Though vehicular traffic on roads connecting Tamil Nadu and Kerala has increased over the years, tank filling projects, and recharge of underground water table has increased horticulture crops, adding to the greenery.

IMPROPRIETY BY LEE, BUT INDIA TOO NEEDS TO LOOK AT ITSELF

Singapore Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong's critical comments about Indian MPs have stirred the diplomatic and political circles. It is not usual for a PM of a country speaking from the floor of the House to attack parliamentarians of another, especially of a nation considered to be a close strategic ally. Singapore is a small city-state, but it has huge diplomatic heft. It is one of the smartest nations that has played the geopolitical game to perfection by cleverly managing superpowers like the US, China and Russia. For it to suddenly lunge at India could not be a thoughtless act. India did well to register its protest by summoning the Singaporean high commissioner and conveying its disapproval of Lee's impropriety.

Indian foreign office mandarins, however, need to closely examine the circumstances in which Lee made those remarks. There are a large number of Indians working there. Covid has caused huge job losses in Singapore and the local population is angry with immigrant workers. In the last few years, Singapore has cut down on work visas for Indians and permanent residencies have been reduced to nearly nothing. The deepening China-Singapore ties too need to be watched closely. India would do well to engage more closely with the city-state and not push Lee's critical comments under the carpet.

New Delhi also needs to examine Lee's remarks to see if what he said was how our country was viewed abroad. Speaking on alleged untruths spoken by a Singaporean lawmaker, and on the need for probity and integrity in public life, Lee said, "Nehru's India has become one where, according to media reports, almost half the MPs in the Lok Sabha have criminal charges pending against them, including charges of rape and murder…" According to the latest report of the Association for Democratic Reforms, out of the 539 MPs whose affidavits were examined, 233 (43%) have declared criminal cases against themselves. There is an increase of 44% in the number of MPs with declared criminal cases since 2009. While Singapore needs to take a long look at its own dismal democratic record of constraining the opposition and allowing one family and one party to dominate the system, India too needs to turn the mirror towards itself.

HYDROGEN POLICY A GOOD START

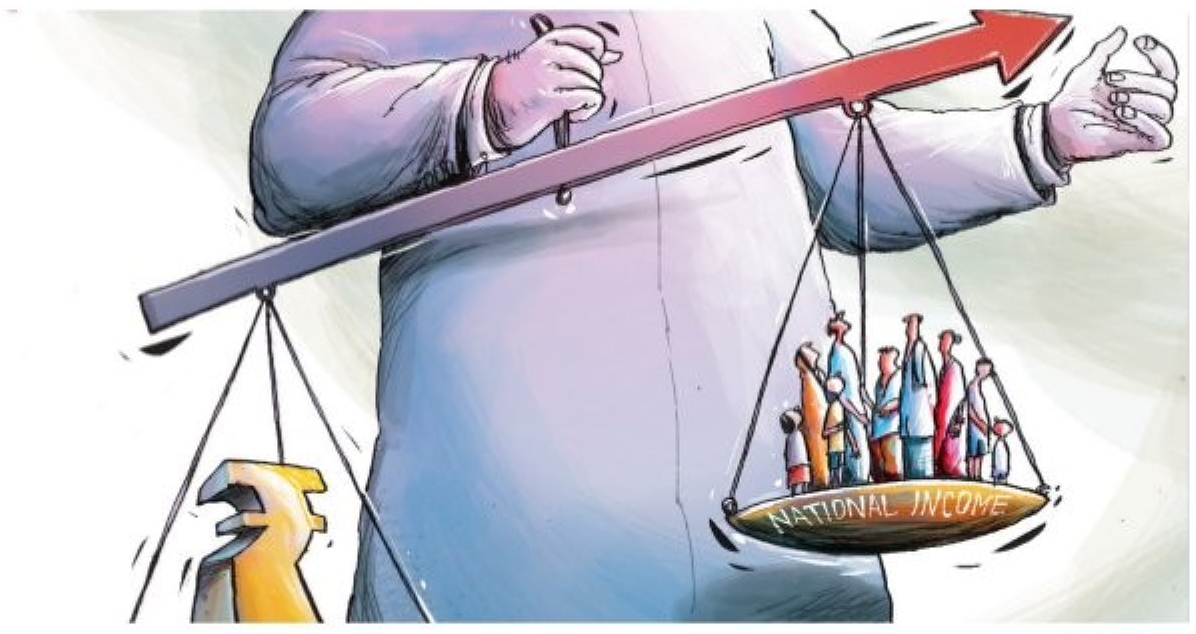
India has thrown its hat into the global production race for the cleanest, alternative fuel—green hydrogen. The new National Hydrogen Policy announced on Thursday hopes to reduce dependence on—if not displace—fossil fuels and lower oil imports. Willing producers of green hydrogen, made using renewable power sources like wind or solar, will get incentives including waiver of inter-state power transmission charges for 25 years on the trot, besides priority connectivity to electricity grids and storage facilities for up to 30 days. The policy hopes to channel India's efforts in meeting its decarbonisation targets, deepening energy security and positioning itself as the global hub of green hydrogen and ammonia exports.

The policy is a first step to India's commitment at the COP26 Summit, where 31 other nations vowed to make affordable renewable and low-carbon hydrogen available by 2030. While India plans to produce five million metric tonnes per annum capacity by this decade, the EU committed to produce twice our target during the same time frame. Japan intends to build 10,000 hydrogen refuelling stations by 2030, China hopes to produce a million fuel-cell vehicles, while nations like the Netherlands and Switzerland have already made a beginning with commercial production of hydrogen trucks.

For India, green hydrogen is still in its infancy and the key challenge is its affordability. Currently, one kg of green hydrogen costs $3–6.5 and the latest policy aims to bring it down to $1 per kg by 2030. For a nation that imports 85% of its oil and 53% of its gas, the new hydrogen policy could act as a critical enabler, if not a game-changer, but the government must continue to innovate, increase R&D, and importantly provide clarity on demand-side measures like hydrogen purchase obligations. The industry was looking for specific interventions including the mandated use of green hydrogen in certain sectors, which will give impetus to producers and the technology as well. Such a move is also crucial in decarbonising the hard-to-abate and heavily polluting sectors like oil-run power plants, iron and steel, and where solar and wind cannot effectively chip in.

What form should government expenditure take? Is the fiscal stimulus best ensured by increasing government expenditure or reducing taxes?

TAX CUTS AND HOW MYOPIA CHAINS OUR PERCEPTIONS



SOUMYADIP SINHA

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the PM

Every undergraduate student of economics will be exposed to the concept of a multiplier. Indeed, the use of the term has become part of standard jargon. A multiplier measures the factor by which one variable changes with respect to another. That sounds vague. There are multipliers and multipliers. Hence, let's impart some precision to that vague statement by applying it to a specific type of multiplier: The fiscal multiplier. National income results from consumption, private investments, government expenditure or exports. An increase in expenditure on any of these four leads to an increase in national income. By how much is the question. If the increase in national income is more than the initial increase in expenditure, there is a multiplier or magnifying effect. That is, the multiplier is more than one. It is by no means axiomatic that the multiplier will be more than one. It can conceivably be less. When the multiplier is more than one, there is a chain reaction at work. The government builds national highways. Contractors are hired. There is employment. Wages/ salaries are spent. There is greater consumption, stimulating demand. When these are aggregated, the total increase in national income is greater than the initial spending by the government. This is an example of a fiscal multiplier, relating to government expenditure.

When an economy is not doing well and the government seeks to stimulate growth and employment, an expansionary fiscal policy comes into play. What is the value of the fiscal multiplier? Is it greater than one or less? What form should government expenditure take? Is the fiscal stimulus best ensured by increasing government expenditure or reducing taxes? Leading up to the Union Budget for 2022–23, many people expected tax cuts. There was none. Instead, there was an increase in government expenditure, of the capital investment and infrastructure variety. Were the expectations better-informed, or were government responses better-informed, judged in terms of multiplier effects? Is a government expenditure multiplier higher, or is a tax (reduction) multiplier higher? While one can build theoretical models, which are contingent on assumptions, the only satisfactory answer is to look at empirical estimations. The gut instinct of any economist will be that the government expenditure multiplier will be greater than a tax multiplier. That's what models and empirical results both suggest. For instance, pre-pandemic, figures floated around when there was talk of a fiscal stimulus in the US in 2009. Broadly, tax rebate and temporary tax-cut multipliers were around 1.00, permanent tax-cut multipliers were around 0.5 and government expenditure multipliers were around 1.5, vindicating the economist's gut instinct.

What of India? In 2013, Sukanya Bose and N R Bhanumurthy from NIPFP (National Institute of Public Finance and Policy) authored a paper on fiscal multipliers for India. To quote, "Whereas direct spending by the government fuels public consumption expenditure, transfers by the government result in higher disposable income for the private sector, particularly households, in turn, leading to higher private consumption expenditure. The dynamics of three kinds of expenditures (capital expenditure, transfer payments by the government to the rest of the economy and other revenue expenditure) in the economy are thus very different, and can be expected to generate different multiplier effects on the output." They then used a NIPFP model and data for 1991–2012 to carry out some estimations. According to this paper, the capital expenditure multiplier is 2.45, the transfer payments multiplier is 0.98 and the "other revenue expenditure" multiplier is 0.99. What's the difference between the last two? "Expenditure on the revenue account includes direct spending by the government on goods, services and wage payments, as well as transfer payments to the rest of the economy. Transfer payments involve transfers of purchasing power from the government to the rest of the economy and include major subsidies, pensions and other retirement benefits, relief on account of natural calamities, etc. Any increase in governments' revenue expenditure can be either due to higher government consumption expenditure or on account of an increase in the transfers to the rest of the economy, or a combination of the two." The tax multipliers were around 1, irrespective of whether it was GST, personal income tax or corporate tax. Sure, these numbers are for 1991–2012 and are therefore slightly dated. But numbers don't change that fast, even if there is a pandemic. In other words, if you were the FM and had read the NIPFP paper, you would have done exactly what she has done—not reduce taxes and increase capital expenditure instead. In the long term, the capital expenditure multiplier is even greater.

Leading up to the Budget, many expected tax cuts. There was none. Instead, there was an increase in government expenditure, of the capital investment and infrastructure variety. The gut instinct of any economist will be that the government expenditure multiplier will be greater than a tax multiplier. What do models and empirical results suggest?

There are some later figures from December 2020, when the RBI did a half-yearly review of government finances. (The original RBI estimates are from 2019.) To quote again, "In the Indian context, it is important to note that revenue expenditure multipliers for the government are less than unity. … In contrast, the capital expenditure multiplier is well above unity for the Central and state governments—for the Central government, it is 2.45 in period t and 3.14 in period t+1, while for state governments it is close to 2." The same endorsement: Capital expenditure is preferable to revenue expenditure. In addition, capital expenditure by the Union is superior to that by state governments from the multiplier perspective. Despite this, why do we prefer tax cuts? The primary reason is myopia. Tax cuts and their perceived benefits are immediately visible. The multiplier is less visible, working through a chain reaction. Myopia chains our perceptions.

IRRIGATING ARID REGIONS, THE PANDYA SOLUTION

MADHUSUDHANAN KALAICHELVAN

Architect and conservationist interested in Indian heritage and culture

The Pandya kingdom, which mainly consisted of today's Madurai, Pudukkottai, Tirunelveli, Thoothukudi, Ramanathapuram, Tenkasi and Virudhunagar districts, has an interesting topography. Virudhunagar and Ramanathapuram and parts of Pudukkottai and Thoothukudi are known for their arid weather conditions with no perennial river to depend upon. Rivers Vaigai and Tamrabarani help in irrigation along their tracts through canals. With agriculture being the fulcrum of the economy, the Pandyas overcame the water constraints thanks to their administrative genius.

A 1030 CE inscription from Mannarkoil from the time of Jatavarman Sundara Chola Pandiyan enlists the modes of irrigation used in the region. Irrigated by the Tamrabarani and Gatana rivers, most of the land was river-fed, double-crop yielding and reclaimable. A lot of them were wetlands purchased and endowed to the deity of Vishnu of Rajendra Vinnagar, built by the Chera ruler Rajasimha in 1021 CE.

A foolproof network of weirs was constructed across the rivers when they were on a higher elevation and capillaries were designed to feed tanks. Surplus water from the higher source would flow into the tanks at lower elevations with the help of reservoirs that were dug to conserve as much water as possible during occasional floods. At the same time, the residual flow of water to the sea was sufficient for boats to enter the roadsteads. All along the course of River Vaigai, we see settlements named with the prefix yendal, meaning one that collects and stores. They are smaller tanks constructed to collect and store surplus from the higher sources. But this system might not feed the regions at the tail-end efficiently due to absorption of water by the farmers near the source. This challenge was overcome by adopting a system of turns called murai and a monitored distribution of hours of supply called neer naazhigai.

The role of the community, and their physical and monetary contributions in both building and maintaining public infrastructure is reflected in several inscriptions. In 1102 CE, during the reign of Jatavarman Sri Vallabhan, the summer rains were unusually very heavy and caused more than 30 breaches in the supply canal of Manomayam lake, the irrigation source of Vijayanarayana Chathurvedi Mangalam (present day Vijayanarayanam town near Nanguneri). An official named Nambi Sankaran Vasudevan, who was managing the affairs of Chera king Ravi Kodaivarman, came forward to take up the repair works. In return, the regional administration renamed the supply tank as Sri Vasudeva Peraru and the bund as Vasudevan bund. Nambi Sankaran ensured annual maintenance of the new bund by purchasing and endowing a land exclusively for it. According to the endowment, a part of the annual produce from the land must be spent in regular checks and repair works.

Similar request for excavations, deepening and desilting of the tank at Suthamalli was submitted at the court of Jatavarman Kulasekara Pandiyan (1024 CE) by an influential Vedic scholar Alwan Bhattan Atiratra-yajiyar. The king sanctioned 1,000 dramam (a monetary denomination) from the tax dues of this settlement to be paid annually for the maintenance of the tank. The tank was named after him as Kulasekara-pereri.

A 1030 CE inscription from Mannarkoil from the time of Jatavarman Sundara Chola Pandiyan enlists the modes of irrigation used in the region. Irrigated by the Tamrabarani and Gatana rivers, most of the land was river-fed, double-crop yielding and reclaimable. A lot of them were wetlands purchased and endowed to the deity of Vishnu of Rajendra Vinnagar

There are also cases of disputes over ownership and interruptions in the existing system that were settled through government intervention. During the 11th year of Jatavarman Sri Vallabhan (12th century CE), a certain Sri Harshan Narayana Bhatta Vajapeyi of Kiranur was granted land to the south of Vaigai river near the popular Vishnu temple of Kuruvithurai near Madurai. The land to the south side of the river was irrigated better than the north owing to the natural slope of the river to the south. The grant to Vajapeyi also enabled the excavation of a canal in the name of Sri Vallabha. Five years later, the administrative sabhai complained to the king that the newly dug canal had intercepted the drawing of water from their own channel lower down and clearly violated their riparian rights. The king who commenced the grant understood the issue and reissued a command to revoke the grant and fill the newly dug canal with earth. This was a very rare case where the king was forced to revoke his own orders for the welfare of the people.

Interestingly we also see how compensation was paid for accidents and loss of life during maintenance activities. A 13th century inscription from Manur records the death of two people on the banks of Madurantaka canal due to rise in level of water and how a certain Sathappan died when he ventured to enter the river and open the sluice. The sluices were designed a short distance from the bund inside the stream. To access and open the stone slab, one had to dive and swim deep into the stream. To compensate for the death of the sluice operator, land was granted to his family.

The Pandyas, undoubtedly the lineage that made every challenge an opportunity to prove their genius, managed water and irrigation in the most sophisticated way possible. Setting up an integrated irrigation channel benefiting people far away from the main river course, maintaining the established system, reclaiming and rejuvenating dry land, protecting the riparian rights of the beneficiaries and ensuring a fair share of available water can be understood through the few examples mentioned. They also stand testimony to their adherence to dharma and planning for the future.

Insult to forefathers

This is with reference to India and its many contradictions (Feb 18). In recent times, it has become a fashion to dig into history and criticise the previous prime ministers, especially Jawaharlal Nehru. Wisdom should prevail on the critics and they should realise that those PMs were elected by the then citizens. Insulting them is akin to doing the same to our own forefathers. Nehru still remains the PM who has served the nation for the longest term.

Lee's caustic comments

Singapore Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong has ruffled Indian feathers with his Nehru remark. During a passionate debate in the Singapore parliament, Lee gave examples of the decline in political probity among elected politicians in India today. Lee lauded Jawaharlal Nehru but lamented that half of the parliamentarians in India had a criminal record. The comments from a close strategic partner and leader whose family has shared close ties with India for decades are shocking. The Ministry of External Affairs has done well to deplore Lee's caustic remarks.

N J Ravi Chander, Bengaluru

Introspect on OIC remarks

India has enough reasons to be peeved about the derogatory comments of the OIC. Though justified, that was a knee-jerk reaction. However, we also need to introspect. Such a strong reaction from the entire Muslim world around us is not something that can be brushed aside. The threats in the Middle East where millions of Indians are working cannot also be ignored. India needs to act fast to douse the wildfire without any loss of time.

The hurdle is real

This is with reference to Third-term hurdle ahead of KCR before national role (Feb 18). The editorial highlighted the strategy of Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao, who is showing ambitions to enter national politics in support of the opposition parties that are contriving to derail the BJP without any plans for the country. He is also upset by the truth that the saffron party is becoming more popular in Telangana as by-elections indicate. It is time for him to put his house in order, before attempting to become a national entity, to win the confidence of the people of Telangana.

Govt must provide clarity

This is with reference to Tax sleuths swoop down on properties of ex-NSE chief (Feb 18). The investigation may throw up some lead on the unknown Yogi with whom the ex-NSE boss had been sharing data. The government should come out with a white paper on the state of affairs of the NSE and the Yogi who was dictating terms.

Merely to target Muslims

This is with reference to Politicos-led panel not fit to ensure student welfare (Feb 17). I do not understand why in a country like India where a chief minister wears a dress that symbolises his religion, wearing a hijab becomes a matter of minute scrutiny. It is merely a political move targeting the Muslim community in our country.

ASSEMBLY ELECTION 2022 DECIDE

Centre analysing VIP security cover

NEW DELHI: With a few more days remaining for the conclusion of Assembly elections in UP and Punjab, the Centre is carrying out extensive security analysis of VIPs who may need central security cover. Among the most prominent names being considered for security cover is former AAP member Kumar Vishwas who has levelled 'separatism' allegations against Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, sources said on Friday.

EVMs could be forged or replaced: Rawat

DEHRADUN: Former CM and senior Congress leader Harish Rawat has alleged there could be forgery and replacement of the EVMs to rig the just-concluded Uttarakhand Assembly polls. "We have got inputs that the EVMs could be replaced. The BJP is scared of losing elections in Uttarakhand as well as in Uttar Pradesh. All I want to say at this juncture to the administration is to ensure preservation of democratic values of this country."

'Channi's remark akin to Black issue in US'

NEW DELHI: Congress MP Manish Tewari Friday said Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi's 'Bhaiyya' comments were akin to the 'Black issue' in the US and such thinking should have no place in the secular ethos of Punjab. Tewari, who is reportedly on his way out of the party, tweeted: "It is reflective of an unfortunate systemic and institutionalised social bias against migrants stretching back to the inception of the Green Revolution."

PM is 'Sikh at heart', says delegation

NEW DELHI: Two days before the Punjab Assembly polls, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday met a 31- member Sikh delegation at his residence. After meeting the PM, the Sikh leaders described him as a "Sikh at heart" and listed his contributions to the faith including the opening of the Kartarpur Corridor. "I was humbled by the kind words from the distinguished members of the Sikh community," Modi tweeted.

Voters unsure if Congress will benefit from choosing Channi as first CM from SC community

Ear to the Ground
PUNJAB POLLS

H KHOGEN SINGH @ Amritsar/Gurdaspur/Jalandhar (Punjab)

PUNJAB'S electorate has so far largely ignored caste, community and regional faultlines, voting alternatively to elect a Congress or a Akali Dal-BJP government without being trapped by identities or binaries.

But, with the Congress making Charanjit Singh Channi the chief minister, the state's first Scheduled Caste at the helm, it has added a whole new electoral dimension this time, injecting a caste-based politics not witnessed in Punjab before.

The Congress will hope that by picking Channi, the state's 32% SC population will see him as a symbol of empowerment among the community and propel it to power again. Not to be left behind, other parties have also played the caste card, raising the sweepstakes. The BJP has declared that it will make an SC as the CM if voted to power. The Akali Dal-BSP and the Aam Aadmi Party have promised to have an SC as the deputy CM.

But as the campaigning for a heraldic and folkloric election came to a close on Friday, views are divided on the Congress's caste card. Most are either indifferent or simply dismissive, but a small section felt it could pay the Congress electoral dividend.

Sipping his morning tea in fog-wrapped Kartarpur, a reserved constituency just outside Jalandhar city, furniture showroom owner Surinder Pal, 47, felt the Congress held the trump as it has made Charanjit Singh Channi the state's first Scheduled Caste chief minister.

"The party has made Channi the CM so that it gets SC votes and he has done a good job so far, he reduced the power rate within months, before that Punjab had the highest per unit cost in the country," Pal said, shedding his initial skittishness.

About 25 kms away at Alhawalpur village in Adampur, another SC constituency in Jalandhar district, Hans Raj, 68, a retired government official, said the Congress would not only benefit from Channi's SC identity but other sections would also vote for the panjaa, meaning the Congress, whose election symbol is the palm of a hand.

"Even Khatris and Brahmins will vote for the Congress," said Raj, adding that the real reason why the SCs would vote for the Congress was that Channi had given Rs 25 crore to the Dera Sachkhand Ballan, one of Punjab's largest dera associated with Ravidasias, the CM's community.

Kushaldeep Kumar, 28, a wiry youth who worked as a security guard in Doha, Qatar, before returning because of the Covid-19 pandemic, said Channi's gesture was enough to make all the dera's followers to vote for the Congress. "The dera head does not need to give a call to support the Congress," Kumar said.

So for Pal, it was not only Channi's identity as an SC that would benefit the Congress but also the slashing of the power rate. Similarly for Raj and Kumar, it was the CM's largesse to the Dera Sachkhand Ballan that gave the party the edge. Simply put, Channi's identity is layered in the dole and the dera.

Sukhvinder Singh says voters in Sham Chaurasi seat don't consider caste or religion

> I cannot say if Channi's choice will benefit the Congress. Political leaders should work for the people, give jobs and bring development, their identity doesn't matter — Ditto Gaurav Bassi, voter in Chabbewal

For a large number of voters caste did not matter. With Punjab slipping in the development and job indices, driving the youth to look for greener pastures abroad, Battle 2022 has acquired an evangelical noise.

"People here don't see caste or religion while voting. They want anyone who can work for the benefit of the public, whichever political party they belong to," said Sukhvinder Singh, 46, a grizzled agricultural equipment workshop owner in Sham Chaurasi, an SC seat in Hoshiarpur district.

Ditto Gaurav Bassi, 31, an arthiya, or commission agent at a mandi in Chabbewal, another reserved constituency in Hoshiarpur. "I cannot say if Channi's choice will benefit the Congress. Political leaders should work for the people, give jobs and bring development, their identity doesn't matter," the young voter said.

In dust-coated Gill, a reserved constituency in Ludhiana, unemployment, price rise and development are on the lips of almost all the working class people and small businessmen. "Don't you see the condition of this road, who is responsible for this? All the politicians are the same," bristled Manjeet Singh, 75, clothes shop owner, pointing to the cratered national highway.

As a car with a Congress flag passed by on the same highway, bellowing a party campaign song and kicking up plumes of dust, Charan Singh, 62, a retired power department official, summed up the mood. "Voting day happens to be my son's wedding anniversary. I will vote for development and then celebrate the day with my family," he said, looking forward to a day of hootenanny.

While BJP is harping on development, the SP is pitching the unemployment issue

AMBIGUITY MARKS INDUSTRIAL HUB'S ELECTORAL CHOICE

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Kanpur (UP)

KANPUR, once known as 'Manchestor of East', used to export leather and textile goods worth thousands of crores of rupees and contribute handsomely to country's forex reserves. However, the city could not soar to the heights it deserved despite having the initial advantage.

As 10 Assembly seats of Kanpur Nagar and four of Kanpur Dehat districts go to polls on February 20, what is the pulse of voters? The question gives out mixed reactions laced with ambiguity.

The business community of Kanpur echoes issues like closure of industries. "We don't want loans, we expect better facilities to promote industry so that Kanpur can regain its lost glory," says Hemant Gupta, a textiles trader.

Contradicting Gupta, Ashish Verma, a textile and hosiery trader, pitches in claiming that he has started his business just a year back and is content with the growth.

The leather industry of Kanpur has taken a hit due to GST, Covid waves and the orders of NGT. Though the BJP government has promised a leather park in Kanpur, tannery owners lament reduced production due restrictions and lack of government support. "We are facing a tough time," says Mohammad Suhail Mirza, a tannery owner. He claims that production has come down by 50 per cent.

As soon as the interaction with locals in Aryanagar takes off, Darshan Singh, a social activist, accepts that development has taken place. But closure of Lalimli Mill of British India Corporation, due to which Kanpur had earned the moniker of 'Mancherster of East' still pains the residents here. The mill, established in 1876, was shut in 2014 due to mounting losses.

Kaushal Kishore Dixit, in transport business, feels nationalism and law and order are enough to bring the BJP back to power.

Gautam Buddha, a foodgrain trader, takes pride in the fact that the construction of Ram temple in Ayodhya has been initiated. Mohammad Aslam, however, says the temple is being constructed because of the Supreme Court order.

Kushagra Yadav, a college student, defends Akhilesh. "Work was done during the SP regime also. Metro was conceptualised by Akhilesh. But yes, Yogi Adityanath didn't work with vengeance. He continued the development projects. However, unemployment is a big issue," feels Kushagra.

KANPUR

10 seats: Cantt, Kidwai Nagar, Aryanagar, Sisamau, Govindnagar, Ghatampur (SC), Maharajpur, Bithoor, Bilhaur (SC), Kalyanpur

2017: SP won two seats: Aryanagar and Sisamau

BJP won seven: Kidwai Nagar, Govindnagar, Ghatampur (SC), Maharajpur, Bithoor, Bilhaur (SC), Kalyanpur

Congress won Cantt.

KANPUR DEHAT

4 seats: Akbarpur-Rania, Rasoolabad, Bhognipur, Sikandra

2017: BJP won all four

Meanwhile, in Kanpur Dehat, the issue of stray cattle dominates the narrative. As one approaches the rural pockets, units of multinational giants dot both sides of NH-19 but unemployment is a major poll plank here.

"All the manpower for those plants is ferried from outside, Locals are taken only as daily wagers," says Ram Surat Agarwal, 46, a contractor.

Voters of Akbarpur, one of the seats poised for a fierce triangular contest, talk of the stray cattle and lack of development. However, they prefer law and order and nationalism over everything.

Farmers in the region seem miffed with the menace of stray cattle. "We accept that the cattle destroying our crops are our own. But the authorities need to find a solution to the problem after the closure of slaughter houses," says Brijendra Singh.

Many women say they will make the final decision at the polling booth. "Whosoever will seem winning, I will give my vote to him only," says Kusuma, widow of a labourer.

Many rural voters are keeping their cards close to the chest. They acknowledge benefits of welfare schemes but remain tight-lipped. As the common perception goes, the silent vote is inclined towards BSP. Imran, 40, a potato grower, says Congress is better than BJP and SP. "Congress has experience of running the government at Centre."

Rahul can't lead: Smriti in Manipur

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

UNION Minister Smriti Irani on Friday asked the people of Manipur to not rely on Congress leader Rahul Gandhi stating that "when he refused to lead his own party how could he lead people".

She said it was the quality of a leader that he would not go away from his people during difficult times. "But Rahul Gandhi tendered his resignation letter saying he cannot lead the Congress. If he is not keen on leading his party and does not have faith in it, how can you repose your trust in him and the Congress?" Irani asked at a rally at Lamsang.

Defeat and victory are the two sides of a coin in an election but Rahul Gandhi has proven he distances himself from his people during difficult times, Irani said.

She praised the Modi government for protecting women by building toilets. She said research reports revealed that 40% of the cases of rape of women prior to 2014 were related to open defecation.

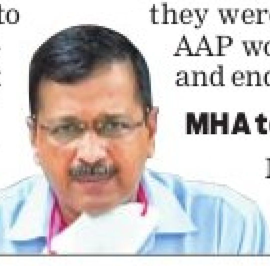
She also showered praises on CM N Biren Singh for his "peaceful approach towards resolving conflicts". "That you have a chief minister who believes in peaceful resolution of conflicts and challenges is the pride of the BJP," she said.

Kejriwal calls self 'sweetest terrorist', hits out at rivals

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

TRASHING former party colleague Kumar Vishwas's allegations that he has links with Khalistanis and is harbouring separatist ambitions, AAP national convener and Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal on Friday called himself a Bhagat Singh follower and "world's sweetest terrorist". Kejriwal, who has come under fire from rivals after Vishwas's video, hit back saying all the corrupt forces had come together to conspire against him and were calling him a terrorist.

"Britishers had called Bhagat Singh a terrorist and 100 years later, history is repeating when all these parties want to prove Bhagat Singh's follower is a terrorist, but people know the reality," the AAP leader said. "Perhaps, I am the world's sweetest terrorist who builds schools, hospitals, roads, improves power infrastructure and water supply and sends the elderly on pilgrimage." Kejriwal said his rivals were hell-bent on proving him a terrorist because they were nervous that the AAP would come to power and end their corruption.



MHA to probe charges

Meanwhile, Punjab CM Charanjit Singh Channi on Friday tweeted urging PM Narendra Modi to order an impartial probe into Vishwas's allegations.

Separately, Union Home Minister Amit Shah said the government had taken a serious note of Channi's allegations about banned outfit Sikhs for Justice supporting AAP in the 2017 Assembly polls as well as the current elections. Shah said he would "personally look into" the allegations.

Working with spirit of achieving self-reliance: PM

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi said his government was committed to provide modern rail infrastructure to all and highlighted how India's first bullet train project would unlock the potential of Mumbai.

"Fourteen years after the foundation stone was laid, the fifth and sixth Thane-Diva rail lines will serve the people as a new lifeline in daily commuting. While the frequency of local train will go up, long distance trains have also got a separate corridor," he said after dedicating the two additional tracks to the country and flagging off 36 new Mumbai suburban train services through video conferencing.

Describing this as homage to Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj a day before his birth anniversary, the PM said the project started in 2008 was languishing for years and got completed by the NDA government amid challenges of the Covid pandemic. "We're working with the spirit of achieving self-reliance. The Central government is committed to provide all rail infrastructure of 21st century standard in all states," he added.

Highlighting the significance of India's first bullet train project, Modi said the Ahmedabad-Mumbai High-Speed Rail has become a need for Mumbaikars and all. "This project will explore the Mumbai's potential further," he claimed.

Sharp drop in domestic flyers in Jan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC air passenger traffic recorded a sharp 43% decline in January as demand slumped during the peak of Omicron cases. As per aviation regulator's latest data, around 64.08 lakh domestic passengers travelled by air in January, approximately 43% lower than the 1.12 crore who travelled in December.

Occupancy of the flights termed as the passenger load factors (PLF) fell for all Indian carriers in January as compared to December, the DGCA data said. Major scheduled commercial airlines registered 60.5-73.4% passenger load factor (PLF) in January, down from 67-86% in the previous month. The load factors of SpiceJet, IndiGo, Vistara, Go First, Air India and AirAsia India were 73.4%, 66.6%, 61.6%, 66.7%, 60.6% and 60.5 %, respectively, in January 2022, it mentioned.

IndiGo ferried 3.56 million passengers during January to report 55.5% market share and 66.6% PLF, during the month. The airline has carried 6.14 million passengers in December. Spicejet flew 6.8 lakh passengers and Air India flew 6.56 lakh passengers in January.

The DGCA data said that in January, Go First had the best on-time performance of 94.5% at four metro airports — Bengaluru, Delhi, Hyderabad and Mumbai.

COVID FIGHT

Over two crore children in the age group of 15-18 years have been fully vaccinated against Covid, said the Union Health Minister, adding that 80 per cent of the adult population were administered both doses.

Didi checkmates nephew with 3 new players

Though Abhishek remains national general secretary, three new posts of national vice-prez are seen as a counter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

AMID talks of an internal rift with her heir apparent, Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee on Friday reinstated Abhishek Banerjee as her party's national general secretary and inducted three others in the party's national hierarchy.

Former Union finance minister Yashwant Sinha, senior leaders Subrata Bakshi and Chandrima Bhattacharya were made national vice-presidents.

The changes were made in the first meeting of the newly formed national working committee convened by Mamata at her residence in Kalighat.

Party insiders said the changes appeared to be a move to clip wings of Abhishek. ''Mamata formed the national working committee dissolving all top-level hierarchy including Abhishek's portfolio. Earlier, he was the lone representative in the national hierarchy. Today, he was reinstated as the national general secretary but with three new posts created in the national level hierarchy," said a senior TMC leader.

The creation of the three new national-level portfolio is said to be a fallout of the recent developments within the party suggesting growing distance between the TMC supremo and Abhishek.

Sources in the party said Mamata was upset with her nephew, who wanted to field many young faces in the civic polls but his idea was rejected by the party chief. There was a buzz doing the rounds that Abhishek, who is considered number 2 in the party, had expressed desire to step down and that Mamata was in no mood to dissuade him.

'Abhishek was trying to establish his own impression in the party. The distance between him and Mamata became visible when a section of leaders, known for their proximity to Abhishek, was in favour of fielding young candidates in the civic polls which was turned down by the party supremo,'' said the TMC leader.

The rift became prominent after Prashant Kishor's team I-PAC, which was hired on suggestion of Abhishek after the party's poor show in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, tabled a list of candidates for 107 civic bodies. ''I-PAC uploaded a candidate list without Mamata's approval. We had to release a second list. It annoyed Mamata, We have already initiated discussions to terminate contract with Kishor's team,'' said another TMC leader.

J&K polls likely in Oct-Nov as delimitation crawls

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH the Delimitation Commission all set to get a three-month extension to complete its work, the first-ever elections in the Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir is likely to take place in October-November.

The Delimitation Commission, which was formed in 2020 to redraw boundaries of Assembly and parliamentary constituencies, is unlikely to complete its task by March.

On February 5, it had handed over the second draft report to five associate members of J&K, who submitted their objections. Now the draft would be put in public domain for inviting suggestions and objections.

The Centre is likely to grant a three-month extension to the Delimitation Commission for completing the delimitation exercise. "It was expected that the Assembly elections in J&K would be held in mid-2022 but if a three-month extension is given to the Delimitation Commission, the polls too will have to be deferred," said a political leader.

Former minister and Dogra Sadar Sabha president Gulchain Singh Charak said the Assembly election is now likely to be held in October-November as the panel is all set to get extension. Concurring this, a BJP leader said the polls would be delayed by three to four months if the extension is granted.

"If polls are not held till November, then the elections will have to be deferred till next year because it would be difficult for the Election Commission to conduct polls in Kashmir in December because of the winter," another political leader contended.

Shah wants zero infiltration; Amarnath Yatra may resume after gap of 2 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday called for strengthening of the security grid in Jammu and Kashmir to ensure zero cross-border infiltration and to eliminate terrorism.

Shah passed the directive while chairing a high-level to review the security situation and progress made in the Union Territory post bifurcation of the erstwhile state in 2019.

J&K L-G Manoj Sinha, National Security Advisor Ajit Doval, Army chief General M Naravane, Union Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla and senior intelligence and security officials of the central and Jammu and Kashmir governments attended the meeting.

Sinha described the meeting "very fruitful" and indicated that the Amarnath Yatra, which was suspended for two consecutive years due to the pandemic, may resume this year. "We will review the situation and take a call. We are hopeful that this year, the yatra will take place as the impact of coronavirus is going down," he said.

A senior MHA official said the J&K administration is assessing the Covid situation closely in preparation for the yatra. "Oxygen booths and testing facilities will be a priority. Discussions are being held to explore the possibility of widening roads at critical junction culverts," the official said, adding that the yatra arrangements are likely to be implemented in full swing from April and the target for completion of the preparation in mid-May.

The yatra if approved, will tentatively start from June last week and culminate by mid-August, another official said.

Ex-NIA officer held for leaking sensitive info to ISI

NEW DELHI: The National Investigation Agency arrested its former SP Arvind Digvijay Negi for allegedly leaking sensitive documents to an accused in a case that pertains to the spread of widespread network of Over Ground Workers (OGWs) of Lashkar-e-Taiba for providing support in planning and execution of terrorist activities. Negi is alleged to have leaked sensitive information to human rights activist Khurram Parvez who, the NIA believes, passed on the information to Pakistan's spy agency ISI via the OGWs. "During investigation, the role of AD Negi, IPS, SP posted at Shimla (since repatriated from NIA) was verified and his houses were searched. It was also found that official secret documents of NIA were leaked by AD Negi to another accused person who is an LeT OGW in the case," an NIA statement said.

Don's brother in ED custody

MUMBAI: Iqbal Kaskar extorted money from celebrities and builders using his brother Dawood Ibrahim's image as a "global terrorist", the ED told the special court on Friday while seeking his remand in a money laundering case. Later, it was given the custody of Kaskar till February 24. Kaskar was lodged in a Thane jail in connection with multiple extortion cases. The ED said it was apparent that Kaskar was a prominent member of the Dawood gang and was involved along with associates in activities like threatening, extortion. ENS

No industries in floodplains, Ganga projects exempted

RICHA SHARMA @New Delhi

THE Centre has decided to ban the establishment of industries in river floodplains, changing earlier guidelines that industrial sites shall maintain a distance of at least 0.5 km from floodplains or modified floodplains affected by the dams. However, projects in the Ganga river planes will be exempted from the ban under the new guidelines.

"Industries shall not be located within the river floodplains corresponding to one in 25 years flood, as certified by district magistrate concerned or state water resource department or any other officer authorised by the state government," said the directive issued by the Environment Ministry.

The ministry has come up with the new guidelines for industries located in close proximity to the river following deliberations in the ministry and incorporating suggestions from other ministries, including Jal Shakti. As per the guidelines, activities undertaken under the Namami Gange Programme such as construction, development, renovation of sewage treatment plants, bathing ghats, crematoria and toilets for pollution abatement of the Ganga and its tributaries are not prohibited. Any development project taken up by the Ministry of Jal Shakti under the said programme is also exempted.

The ministry's last revised 'environment guidelines for industries' prescribed that industrial sites shall maintain a distance of at least 1/2 km from floodplain or modified floodplain affected by the dam in the upstream or by flood control systems.

"The NGT, while considering restoration of measures to Yamuna and Ganga, dealt with the issue of floodplains and said it is necessary to call upon the authorities to demarcate the floodplain for the flood of once in 25 years and to prohibit any kind of development activity on the area in question," the ministry said.

It also cited a 2017 Supreme Court order saying that "till the demarcation of the floodplains and identification of permissible and non-permissible activities by the states…100 meters from the edge of the river would be treated as no development/construction zone".

Two Assam workers die in Meghalaya coal mine, cops refuse to confirm case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

TWO coal mine labourers reportedly died of asphyxiation in Meghalaya, highlighting how the state government continues to deny illegal coal mining activities.

Ainuddin Ali and Sukur Ali of Boko, both from Assam, were killed in tragedy that took place on Wednesday at Shallang area of West Khasi Hills.

Esahak Ali, who is the father of Ainuddin, told journalists that he was informed about the death of his son on Wednesday night.

In a viral video, a local said the two labourers had gone deep inside the coal mine and died, possibly, due to lack of oxygen. The mine was apparently closed for four-five years and efforts were being made allegedly to resume operation.

While the police said there was no official information to confirm the deaths, Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma expressed ignorance.

They (government) are cheating everyone by lying. There is a government is place and it has its machineries. How cannot they see? People are dying. Do they want more people to die?

Agnes Kharshiing, activist

But activist Agnes Kharshiing, who has been fighting the menace for long and has also faced a brutal attack, said the government was lying.

"They are cheating everyone by lying. There is a government is place and it has its machineries. How cannot they see? People are dying. Do they want more people to die?" a livid Kharshiing told this newspaper. "They say they need a report but there are reports in the media. Should they not investigate? The government is not somebody's property or the property of a political party. They owe an answer to the people."

Though the National Green Tribunal allows only scientific mining, the dangerous mode of rat-hole mining is rampant in Meghalaya. Daily wage ranging from ₹2,000 to ₹3,000 draws the poor from the Northeast, particularly Assam, to the mines in Meghalaya. A section of the mines is allegedly owned by politicians and their family members.

The purported incident is one of the numerous coal mine tragedies that Meghalaya has witnessed over the years. In December 2018, at least 17 labourers were killed when a coal mine had got flooded.

Recently, Trinamool Congress leader and former chief minister Mukul Sangma had claimed he had "hard evidence" of the illegal activities and would share it with the government. He had urged the Centre to take cognisance of the issue, saying that coal is not a state subject.

₹3K cr for digital crime monitoring system: Govt

NEW DELHI: The central government has approved second phase of the implementation of Inter-Operable Criminal Justice System (ICJS) at a total cost of ₹ 3,375 crore for the period 2022-23 to 2025-26.

Announcing the decision, the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) said the move is a step towards ensuring effective and modern policing. The project will be implemented as a central sector scheme. The ICJS system would be made available through a dedicated and secure cloud-based infrastructure with high speed connectivity, the MHA said.

The National Crime Records Bureau will be responsible for the implementation of the project in association with the National Informatics Centre. The project will be implemented in collaboration with state governments and Union Territory administrations.

The ICJS is a national platform for enabling integration of the main IT system used for delivery of criminal justice in the country by five pillars of police (crime and criminal tracking and network systems), e-Forensics for forensic labs, e-courts for courts, e-Prosecution for public prosecutors e-Prisons for prisons.

In Phase-I of the ICJS project, individual IT systems have been implemented and stabilised and search of records enabled on these systems. ENS

Samples from the carcass were also sent to a laboratory for inspection in Bhopal.

Defexpo 2022 will be five-day event, 1,000 exhibitors likely

NEW DELHI: Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Friday reviewed preparations for the upcoming Defexpo, billed as Asia's largest exhibition of military platforms and equipment.

Gandhinagar in Gujarat will host the 12th edition of Defexpo from March 10-14.

The event was earlier scheduled for four days beginning March 10, but the defence ministry on Friday said Singh has extended it by one day. "The Defexpo-2022 is symbolic of India's resolve to further its business interests and take global initiatives towards furthering peace and security in the region," the ministry said.

It said 930 exhibitors have registered for the mega event so far and the number is expected to rise beyond 1,000 in the days ahead.

After Singh reviewed the preparations, it said the event is being organised as one of the largest international exhibitions of military platforms.

"The event is being organised as one of the largest defence international exhibitions of the world. There has been greater domestic and international interest in this 12th edition of Defexpo since India relaxed its health protocols owing to the reduction in COVID-19 cases," the ministry said in a statement. ENS

Congress spokesperson resigns, likely to join BJP

Congress chief spokesperson Jayrajsinh Parmar resigned from the party after the AICC dropped his name and announced two new chief spokespersons for Gujarat Pradesh Congress Committee (GPCC). On February 14, the AICC announced the appointment of Punja Vansh and Veerji Thummar as the chief spokespersons for the GPCC, replacing Manish Doshi and Parmar. In a social media post on Thursday, Parmar wrote that he is "tired of the inefficiency of senior leaders of Congress" and the manner in which the party has been made a "personal property of five-six leaders". Sources said he is likely to join the ruling BJP in the coming days.

Extramarital affair can't be reason for sacking cop: HC

The Gujarat High Court has observed that while extramarital relationship can be seen as 'an immoral act' from social standpoint, it can't be a reason to sack a policeman under the police service rules. Justice Sangeeta Vishen made this observation while quashing the order to dismiss the constable and directing the Ahmedabad Police to reappoint him within a month. The constable had moved a plea challenging his dismissal from service for having extramarital affair with a widow. "It is true that the petitioner is a part of a disciplined force, however, his act, which otherwise is immoral in the eyes of the society at large, would be difficult for this court to bring it within the purview of misconduct, considering the fact that the act was a private affair and not result of any coercion pressure," the court said.

Gujarat to develop 2.5K km roads by year-end

The state plans to complete construction of 2,500 kilometres of roads and repair and resurface another 12,000 kilometres of roads by December 2022. In another decision taken during a cabinet meeting, CM Bhupendra Patel also approved allocation of `650 crore for the second phase construction of Tarapur-Bagodara highway. The government will also launch the Sujalam Sufalam program in the state soon. Meanwhile, CM Patel kicked off the 'Khel Mahakumbh' on Thursday. Around 45 lakh sportspersons will participate in various sporting activities in taluka, district, and state-levels.

Ministers not vacating their MLA quarters

The Gujarat government is yet to get half a dozen of its ministers to vacate their MLA quarters. The ministers have not vacated their quarters despite ministerial bungalows being allocated to them. MLAs in the state get quarters and those who become ministers get a ministerial bungalow. When they move into the bungalow they are required to vacate the quarters. Interestingly, all the ministers who are yet to surrender their MLA quarters had shifted to their respective bungalows six months ago. This attitude of some of the new ministers has resulted in many former ministers waiting to get their MLA quarters as they had given up their ministerial bungalows.

DAY OF SHELLING, OUTAGES, FEAR FOR EASTERN UKRAINE

Monitors report more than 500 explosions, including in a kindergarten, in 24 hrs

KYIV

SHELLS struck by the hundreds along the tense front lines in eastern Ukraine, drones monitoring a fragile cease-fire lost their way when the GPS signal they rely on was jammed, and then the cellphone network went dark.

In a sliver of land where pro-Russian separatists have battled for years against Ukrainian government forces, a group of international monitors tasked with keeping the peace reported more than 500 explosions in the 24 hours ending Thursday midday, around four times as many as an average day over the past month.

As the world warily watches Russian troops massing near Ukraine's borders for signs they're preparing to invade, Western officials have warned that the spark could come from the volatile east. Repeatedly in recent weeks, the US has said the simmering conflict there could provide cover or an excuse for Russia to roll across the border. The number of explosions eased as the day went on, but by then the village of Stanytsia had already suffered more than its share.

One shell crashed into a kindergarten, blasting a hole in the wall that sent football balls flying off the classroom shelves just as the school day started. Others blasted craters into the schoolyard and shattered windows of nearby homes. "We heard the sound of broken glass. The children were very scared. Some kids started crying immediately, and the explosions continued for the next 20 minutes," said Olena Yaryna, the school director.

At Valentyna Melnychenko's nearby home, the explosions filled her living room and hall with smoke. "I switched off the TV, and there were seven more shellings and then it stopped," she said as she surveyed the damage outside, her hair covered in a bright pink scarf that contrasted with the gray debris behind her.

Three people were wounded and half the village lost power.

Oleksandr Pavliuk, a Ukrainian army commander, said the explosions were intended to provoke a response and ultimately a counter-response, echoing the warnings from the United States. Russia denies any plans to attack.

"Our task is to control this abnormal situation in order to avoid a pretext for escalation," Ukrainian Defense Minister Oleksii Reznikov said. Monitors from the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe have been in place in the Donetsk and Luhansk regions since 2014 to try and maintain the cease-fire. It's never been easy, but that task was made harder this week as they found their access repeatedly blocked.

In addition to the explosions, the organisation recorded nearly 600 cease-fire violations over the course of a day, more than double the average for the past month. And three of the organisation's small surveillance drones went astray after the GPS signal was jammed; a fourth couldn't make it off the ground without a signal.

Electronic interference went further overnight, when the cellphone network went down in Luhansk for hours, for the second night in a row. And Stanytsia Luhanska was struck yet again as night fell. AP

Lankan court acquits two top officials in 2019 Easter bombing

COLOMBO

A SRI LANKAN court on Friday acquitted two top officials, including former police chief Pujith Jayasundera, of all charges of negligence in the 2019 Easter terror attacks that killed nearly 270 people, including 11 Indians.

The High Court freed Jayasundera and former defence secretary Hemasiri Fernando of all charges of negligence where they had been accused of not taking action to prevent the attacks despite the availability of prior intelligence. According to their lawyers, the court's order found fault with the Attorney General for filing a case against the duo.

The two were arrested in July 2019, three months after the attack. They were granted bail after their arrest and rearrested in October 2019. They were granted bail in August 2021.

Jayasundera was in November last year indicted with 855 charges of criminal negligence for failing to act despite receiving prior intelligence warnings in the terror attacks. Fernando also faced similar charges. While Fernando obliged the then President Maithripala Sirisena's call to resign, Jayasundera was dismissed as the police chief by Sirisena in June 2019.

The court ruling came as the Catholic Church and the Sri Lankan government were embroiled in a battle over the findings of a presidential panel appointed by Sirisena to probe the Easter Day terror attacks. Archbishop of Colombo Cardinal Malcolm Ranjith has blamed the government for using the findings of the probe for a political cover up and not delivering justice to the victims of the attacks. Sirisena's panel report had found himself, Fernando and Jayasundera along with nine other senior policemen guilty for negligence. PTI

IndiGo co-founder resigns; to reduce stake

Rakesh Gangwal along with co-promoter Rahul Bhatia owns 74% stake in IndiGo; engaged in legal tussle since '20

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INTERGLOBE Aviation's co-founder, non-executive, non-independent director Rakesh Gangwal has tendered his resignation from the company's board with immediate effect.

He will also be reducing his stake, pegged at around 37%, in InterGlobe, parent firm that runs country's largest airline IndiGo, over the next five-plus years. "I have been a long-term shareholder in the company for more than 15 years and it's only natural to someday think about diversifying one's holdings…While new investors should benefit from the potential futuregrowth in the company's share price, a gradual reduction of my stake should also allow me to benefit from some of the upsides," Gangwal wrote in a letter to the board of InterGlobe Aviation.

This development gives a fresh twist to the long tussle between the two promoters of IndiGo- Gangwal and Rahul Bhatia. The two together owns over 74% stake in IndGo and have been involved in a legal tussle since early 2020 over corporate governance issues and a clause in company's article of association that prevented the co-founders from buying publicly-listed shares.

When InterGlobe board had made changes in the company's article of association last year, it was widely believed that the two promoters had smoked a peace pipe, but Gangwal's unexpected exit indicates that they continue to have their differences.

According to an industry analyst, Gangwal's departure means Bhatia will now have a full say in the operations of the airline even as Gangwal rarely interfered in the working of the airline in the past. "The big task for Bhatia, who recently became the managing director of IndiGo, will now be to arm the airline to take on the new Air India under the Tatas' and fend-off competition from the soon to be launched Akasa Air," he said, adding that it won't be a surprise if IndiGo brings an international airline as a partner as the home-grown carrier has ambitious overseas plans and many top names from the industry have shown interest in acquiring a stake in the airline.

Jio's user loss not setback, but good sign, say experts

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

EVEN though Mukesh Ambani-led-Reliance Jio lost a whopping 12.9 million 4G subscribers in December 2021, telecom experts see it as a good sign for the company and not a setback.

The analysts believe that following the price hike by telecom companies, churning out of subscribers was bound to happen. But what is good news for Reliance Jio is that it has improved its active user base.

Consolidation

Analyst say a certain section uses Jio as a 2nd SIM and this segments must have experienced the maximum disconnection and SIM consolidation, instead of consumers leaving services over quality issues.

"Huge loss of mobile subscribers by Jio is the result of a combination of factors. It, of course, includes tariff hike but SIM consolidation and cleaning of inactive subscriber base also contributed to the loss. We don't sense consumers boycotting the services as connectivity is an integral part of their daily needs. Market is moving towards a better subscriber-mix, which is also reflected by improving VLR subscriber percentage for Jio," said Charu Paliwal, Research Analyst at Counter Research.

ICICI securities said industry-active subscriber base grew 0.4% month-on-month with Bharti Airtel's net addition at 0.8 million and VIL saw active subscribers decline by 2.1mn. "The positive surprise was Reliance Jio (RJio) with an active subscriber base grew 4.7 million (average 3.6 million in the past six month) to 364million in December 2021, which looks stronger than expected. Total subscribers dipped to 12.9%, while VLR ratio improved to 87.6% (from 83.9% in Nov'21)," said ICICI securities.

RJio's active subscriber market share improved by 32 bps to 36.4% MoM, while Bharti's stood at 34.8% (down 7bps MoM) and VIL's fell 31bps MoM to 22.9%. RJio continues to expand its lead in active subscriber market share.

As per the latest TRAI data, India lost around 12.8 million mobile users in Dec, among them, Reliance Jio lost 12.9 million 4G subscribers and cash-strapped Vodafone Idea lost 1.61 million users.

"Jio captured the largest subscriber market share by offering plans at a rock bottom price. While some of its subscribers rely on heavily discounted plans, a certain section uses Jio as a second SIM. We think that these segments must have experienced the maximum disconnection and SIM consolidation, instead of consumers leaving services over quality issues after price hike," said Charu Paliwal.

Although solace for telecom operators is that mobile number portability (MNP) requests made during December 2021 were considerably higher but not alarming. There were 8.54 million MNP requests in December as compared to 7.33 million in November. "There was an increase of 1.21 million porting requests in December 2021 as compared to Nov '21 owing to price-sensitive prepaid consumers shifting to other affordable options such as BSNL," said Paliwal.

$372-M JOB SUPPORT PACKAGE UNVEILED

Singapore's Finance Minister Lawrence Wong announced a $500 million Singapore dollars ($372 million) package to support jobs and businesses as part of his budget proposals on Friday, adding that the government will extend separate targeted help for the struggling aviation sector. Singapore's government has committed close to SG$100 billion over the past two years to cushion its people, businesses and the economy from the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic. Wong also said the government would set aside SG$560 million package to help Singaporeans deal with the rising cost of living. He said the government was closely monitoring the risk of rising inflation and the cost of living, which has been driven by the recovery in global demand amid continuing supply chain disruptions and especially by the rise in energy prices. Singapore has forecast its economy will expand 3-5% this year. The Monetary Authority of Singapore tightened its policy settings in January in its first out-of-cycle move in seven years. It is widely expected to tighten again at its scheduled policy meeting in April. The city-state's 2022 core inflation is forecast at 2-3% and headline inflation at 2.5-3.5%.

INDONESIA

COUNTRY SEES CURRENT ACCOUNT SURPLUS IN A DECADE

Indonesia booked a current account surplus for the first time in a decade in 2021, data showed on Friday, but its balance of payments came under pressure in the final quarter due to bond market outflows and higher imports. Bank Indonesia (BI) data showed Southeast Asia's largest economy recorded a $3.3 billion current account surplus last year, equivalent to 0.3% of gross domestic product, helped by a commodity price boom and strong demand from trade partners. It was Indonesia's first surplus since 2011. The 2021 balance of payments registered a $13.5 billion surplus. Persistent current account deficits and reliance on foreign portfolio inflows have previously contributed to the volatility of the rupiah, but analysts say last year's surplus should help steady the currency this year even as global liquidity tightens. Signs of acceleration in the US Federal Reserve's monetary tightening have already spurred outflows from the Indonesian bond market, squeezing capital and financial accounts in the fourth quarter, data showed. The current account surplus narrowed to $1.42 billion, or 0.4% of GDP, in the fourth quarter, from a $4.97 billion surplus, or 1.7% of GDP, in the previous three months, on rising imports and freight costs.

THAILAND

PROPERTY SECTOR RECOVERY DELAYED AMID OMICRON

Thailand's property market may not return to pre-pandemic levels until 2024, due to a slower-than-expected economic recovery amid a new coronavirus outbreak and higher inflation, the research unit of a state home loan lender said on Friday. In November, the research centre had forecast the property market would normalise in 2023 following an easing of mortgage rules to revive a key sector that accounts for about 10% of gross domestic product (GDP) and employs 2.8 million people. But the Covid-19 outbreak driven by the Omicron variant that emerged late last year had slowed domestic activity, said Vichai Viratkapan, head of the Government Housing Bank's real estate information centre. "Rising inflation is also impacting people's income and purchasing power," he said. Inflation hit a nine-month high of 3.23% in January. However, the property sector had bottomed out and should be supported by the relaxed rules and government measures, he said, adding the number of newly built houses and apartments were expected to rise by 35% to 105,000 this year.

IndiaMart.com, Palika Bazaar, Tank Road on US 'notorious markets' list

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

E-COMMERCE website IndiaMart.com and four other markets have reportedly been selling 'counterfeit goods' on its platform, US trade watchdog has said.

The annual list of the world's notorious markets released by the US Trade Representative in its report '2021 Review of Notorious Markets for Counterfeiting and Piracy' mentions IndiaMart and four offline Indian markets including Heera Panna in Mumbai, Kidderpore in Kolkata, Delhi's Tank Road and Palika Bazaar makets.

The report identifies 42 online and 35 physical markets around the world that offer counterfeiting products or copyright piracy.

The USTR report said, "IndiaMART, an e-commerce website and mobile app that connects buyers with suppliers, describes itself as the world's second largest online business-to-business market. Counterfeit goods can allegedly be found in large volumes on IndiaMART, including counterfeit pharmaceuticals, electronics and apparel."

The report adds that a major indoor market at the heart of Mumbai, Heera Panna, offers counterfeit watches, footwear, accessories, and cosmetics. Locally known as Fancy Market, Kidderpore allegedly also sells counterfeit apparel and cosmetics, often in wholesale quantities, while Palika Bazaar in Delhi is seemingly well-known for the trade of counterfeit products, such as mobile accessories, cosmetics, watches and eyewear, says the report. USTR has been publishing the Notorious Markets List since 2011.

Tribunal to settle tussle over 'Hero' trademark

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE on-going Munjal family tussle between Hero Electric and Hero MotoCorp will now be settled through arbitration. The Delhi High Court has formed an arbitral tribunal of three retired judges that will decide whether Hero Electric will have the sole rights to use the 'Hero' trademark for electric vehicles (EVs).

"A petition was filed by Hero Electric to refer the disputes to arbitration which was strongly opposed by Hero MotoCorp. The court, while rejecting all contentions of Hero MotoCorp, has referred all the disputes under the family arrangement to a 3-member arbitral tribunal," said Hero Electric on Friday.

The three retired judges are- Indu Malhotra, Deepak Mishra and Indermeet Kaur.

Hero Electric is adamant of not letting Hero MotoCorp use the 'Hero' brand name even as the latter is expected to launch its first e-scooter next month.

Hero Electric, the country's largest electric 2-wheeler maker, said, "Given the reference of all disputes between the parties, we will be making a prayer for interim injunction against Hero MotoCorp before the duly constituted tribunal. Needless to add, we will also take all possible steps to thwart any challenge to the order of reference of the disputes to arbitration."

Vijay Kumar Munjal, and his son Naveen Munjal, who own Hero Electric, have opposed the use of the 'Hero' trademark by Hero MotoCorp, led by Pawan Munjal, for its EV business. Last month Hero Electric moved the Delhi High Court seeking an injunction against Hero MotoCorp over the use of the Hero brand name.

CIL supplies 575 MT of coa this fiscal so far

New Delhi: Coal India (CIL) on Wednesday informed that it has supplied 575 MT of coal so far this fiscal, surpassing the total dispatch of dry fuel in 2020-21. The company said its despatch to power plants was up at 468.4 MTs compared to 381 MTs in the year-ago period, posting 23% growth. "CIL, as of Feb 16, has already raced ahead of the total coal despatch of FY 21," it said.

Brokerage firms keen to attract LIC policyholders

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

THE most keenly-awaited IPO of the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) has garnered considerable interest from brokerage firms, investors as well as policyholders.

Investment platforms and brokerages are cashing in on this huge interest as LIC has reserved 35% of the shares for retail investors, while up to 10% of shares on offer would be reserved for policyholders.

Brokerage firm Upstox said India had a record year for IPOs last year and LIC's debut would only add to that momentum. "This IPO is beneficial to both the Indian financial markets and the country's economic growth," said Puneet Maheshwari, Director, Upstox.

Also, this IPO might bring in first-time investors, which could lead to opening of more demat accounts. Upstox has created an 'insurance holder category' on the platform, and is also strengthening its infrastructure to keep up with increased customer demand. "We are also developing a comprehensive, all-encompassing strategy in order to make it innovative and engaging for our customers," said Maheshwari.

With a 74.6% market share in terms of individual policies issued, LIC is the largest life insurer with 28.6 crore policyholders.

Deepak Jasani, Head of Retail Research, HDFC Securities, said, "Both brokerage firms and first-time investors are showing great excitement about this IPO. But we need to wait till the government announces the price band to assure ourselves about the margin of safety and upside potential."

Investment tech unicorn Groww is witnessing an increased query for this IPO. "..we are confident that several first-time investors will enter the market," said Harsh Jain, COO and Co-founder, Groww.

FRESH RE-OPENING

Trending! Permanent work-from-home jobs

SAMIKSHA GOEL @New Delhi

EVEN as various companies have started calling people to work from office, a change that started with Covid-19 might continue to stay beyond the pandemic. Data from job search platforms suggest the evolving interest in 'permanent work-from-home' jobs.

Over 2,000 work-from-home jobs have been posted since January 2021 on online job portal Monster India. There are 6 lakh total active jobs on the platform.

At the same time, total applies on these jobs amount to approximately 60, 000.

Job platform Naukri.com is also reporting a growing trend of permanent remote jobs. In July 2021, the company launched a new feature for 'permanent remote' and temporary 'Work From Home during Covid'. Post this, Naukri saw over 93,000 remote jobs being listed, out of which 22% jobs were for permanent remote roles only.

Over the last six months, over 32 lakh job searches, for permanent and temporary remote jobs, were made using the new filter. Out of these, about 57% of searches were made for permanent remote jobs during the same time, with the highest search i.e over 3.5 lakh being reported only in the month of December 2021.

Data by Naukri reflects that IT Software, Software Services, ITeS and Recruitment/Staffing sectors are posting more permanently remote jobs. Some of the companies posting both temporary and permanent remote jobs are Amazon, Tech Mahindra, HCL, PWC, Trigent, Flipkart, Siemens, Deloitte, Oracle, Zensar, TCS, Capgemini etc, the company said.

Manas Fuloria, CEO of an IT firm Nagarro says IT workers clearly want to retain the flexibility Covid has created. "Companies like Nagarro are formalizing this in "Work From Anywhere" policies. Our estimate is that the average IT worker will spend at most 1 or 2 days a week in an office."

"The IT services sector also has to up its game and add more value to prevent disintermediation - that is, engineers directly working with customers, all remotely, instead of working via the IT services companies," Fuloria said, adding the IT sector has always been forward-looking to handle challenges.

India, UAE ink comprehensive trade pact

INDIA and the UAE on Friday inked a landmark Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) and unveiled a roadmap for expansion of overall ties at a virtual summit between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi Sheikh Mohammed bin Zayed Al Nahyan.

In his remarks, Modi delved into various facets of ties between India-and United Arab Emirates. On CEPA, Modi noted that both sides could conclude the negotiations on such an important agreement in less than three months though it takes years for this type of pact to conclude.

The government said the agreement will provide significant benefits to businesses from both sides including enhanced market access and reduced tariffs and the pact is expected to increase bilateral trade from the current $60 billion to $100 billion in the next five years.

The trade pact was signed by commerce minister Piyush Goyal and the UAE's economy minister Abdulla bin Touq Al Marri. Another highlight of the virtual summit was the unveiling of a joint statement "Advancing India and UAE Comprehensive Strategic Partnership: New Frontiers, New Milestone" that seeks to significantly enhance overall cooperation. PTI

NHPC renewable biz incorporated for clean energy

STATE-owned hydro power giant NHPC on Friday informed that it has incorporated NHPC Renewable Energy Ltd for clean energy business. The company in a statement said the new company will develop renewable energy, small hydro and green hydrogen projects.

The new company was registered with the Registrar of Companies, NCT of Delhi & Haryana, on Feb 16, 2022 for development of renewable energy, small hydro and green hydrogen projects. The government on Thursday unveiled the national hydrogen policy, allowing free inter-state wheeling of renewable energy used in the production of green hydrogen and ammonia. ENS

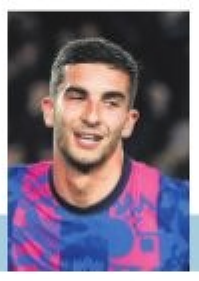
Barca held by Napoli, Rangers stun Dortmund



Barcelona now faces a difficult task to qualify for the Round of 16 in the Europa League. In its first appearance in the second-tier European competition in nearly two decades, the Catalan club was held 1-1 by Napoli at Camp Nou Stadium on Thursday in the first leg. Scottish club Rangers stunned Borussia Dortmund 4-2 away. Sevilla, Atalanta and Porto recorded home victories.

FRESH ENERGY PROPELS INDIA

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN

SEVEN fours. One six. Seven singles. 20 dots. One wicket. One maiden. In isolation, the batting numbers India threw up in the second T20I against West Indies after the first six overs can be discounted. When you consider the larger picture, this is further evidence of them embracing a new way of playing the sport's shortest format. Accused of conservatism, they have tried to break free in recent times. On Friday, both Virat Kohli and Rohit Sharma, who's pioneering this change, frequently went aerial. Touch artists by nature, the duo cleared the front leg before muscling the ball over the infield.

Even if the end result was a touch unsatisfactory — the intent and the execution did not match up always (the run-rate was only a shade over 8 after the power play) — end result be damned if this is the way they are going to approach batting in T20Is. As Rohit got out soon after the power play, Kohli assumed the role of anchor in the middle overs. With the spinners in operation, the Indian batters once again lost their way. They will have to see how to tackle this phase but Rishabh Pant and Venkatesh Iyer injected fresh oxygen into the inning with a flurry of boundaries. Even this was encouraging as India have traditionally not gone big till the start of the 17th over. Woven with the last pair of recognised batters at the crease with six overs to go, Iyer and Pant went big. Their 76-run partnership came off just 37 balls. That lifted the hosts to a score of 186.

BRIEF SCORES

India 186/5 in 20 ovs (Rishabh 52; Chase 3/25) bt West Indies 178/3 in 20 ovs (Powell 68; Kumar 1/29).

Hangargekar, age fraud?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

OM Prakash Bakoria, the Commissioner of Sports & Youth Services, Maharashtra State, has written to the BCCI secretary Jay Shah to take strict action against Rajvardhan Hangargekar, who was part of the India Under-19 team that won the World Cup recently, for fabricating his birth date.

In the letter, a copy of which is with this daily, Bakoria, citing a probe conducted by the CEO of Osmanabad Zilla Parishad, has said Hangargekar altered his birth date from 10/01/2001 to 10/11/2002 at Terna Public School Osmanabad.

Bakoria states that on the basis of the fabricated date Hangargekar got a chance to play for India and has called on the BCCI to act as per law.

Gowtham delivers, but game evenly poised

GOMESH S @ CHENNAI

AN all-round show from Krishnappa Gowtham has kept the game in balance on a day when the inexperienced Karnataka's pace attack was made to toil by resilient Railways' batters at the IC-Gurunanak College Ground here on Friday.

Having put up 481 in the first innings, Karnataka weren't worried as they trusted their young pace attack which had two debutants — Vidyadhar Patil and V Vyshak — to come good. However, Mrunal Devdhar and Vivek Singh took them on, scoring freely. It was evident that pacers lacked experience and they miss key pacer Prasidh Krishna, who was unavailable for the game.

Things went south quickly for Karnataka — Railways were cruising at 87 for nil after 20 overs — that Manish had to resort to spin soon. Introduced in the fourteenth over, Gowtham held one end up till tea break, with pacers rotated from the other end. The spinner was ripping the ball quicker through the air and getting it to turn.

While he could have got the first wicket earlier had Devdutt Padikkal held on to the catch of Vivek at first slip, Gowtham eventually broke the partnership dismissing Mrunal for 56. Shivam Chaudhary did not trouble the scorers much as he was out for single digit. However, Vivek kept the innings going, despite the drop in run-rate, largely because of the control provided by Gowtham at one end.

He continued after the tea break, bowling four more overs before getting change of ends. Vivek, along with Arindam Ghosh (78 n.o), made sure that they did not lose any wickets for the next hour and a half. Gowtham came back for his third spell and delivered again, getting rid of Vivek (59) in the last hour. Gowtham also ensured that Railways did not run away with the game as his team was still ahead by 268 runs.

Earlier, while Yuvraj Singh ran through one end of the Karnataka lower middle-order with the second new ball, Gowtham played his shots, picking up quick boundaries on his way to a 32-ball 52, which played a huge role in taking Karnataka from 324 for six to 481.

NorthEast inflict serious damage to Bengaluru's top-four hopes

ENS @Bengaluru

WHEN Bengaluru FC faced NorthEast United FC at the PJN Stadium in Fatorda in the ISL on Friday, they had different objectives. If the Blues were eager to move up the table, the Highlanders who were already eliminated from the playoffs race were playing for pride. As referee R Venkatesh blew the full-time whistle, the 2-1 scoreline in favour of NorthEast was a big disappointment for Bengaluru, who are now three points off the top four. It will not be easy for Marco Pezzaiuoli's unit with only three games remaining and teams above them having more games in hand.

Khalid Jamil should be proud of his team, who collected only their third win of the season. They did it by coming back from a goal down. Deshorn Brown and Laldanmawia Ralte scored to help their team win the contest after Cleiton Silva had opened the scoring for Bengaluru who are now sixth with 23 points from 17 games.

Saketh-Ramkumar one hit away from double

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE pairing of Saketh Myneni and Ramkumar Ramanathan has been producing impressive results in the doubles competition in Bengaluru. In fact, they have been a brilliant combination ever since they landed in the Garden City, winning the doubles title last week, and have kept their hopes alive of a back-to-back win after defeating Enzo Coucaud and Andrew Harris in the semifinal on Friday. They will meet the Indo-Australian pair of Arjun Kadhe and Alexander Erler in the Bengaluru Open 2 ATP Challenger final on Saturday.

Saketh and Ramkumar eased past their opponents in the first set and when they were tested in the second, they delivered to win the contest 6-4, 7-6 (3). However, the other semifinal was much closer with the top seeds Kadhe and Erler delivering a good game when it mattered most to emerge victorious 6-4, 4-6, 10-3 against the Indian pair of Sriram Balaji Vishnu Vardhan.

In the singles arena, top seed Aleksandar Vukic sealed his spot in the semifinals with a victory over his fellow countryman Max Purcell (6-4, 2-6, 6-4). He will meet last week's finalist Borna Gojo in the first semifinal. The Croat defeated Antoine Bellier of Switzerland in straight sets, 6-4, 7-6 (3).

Things did not go according to plan for another Swiss player, Johan Nikles, who exited the competition with a straight-sets loss (6-1, 6-2) to Frenchman Couacaud. Dimitar Kuzmanov is the fourth semifinalist of the competition with the Bulgarian defeating Mathias Bourgue, 6-4, 6-2.

Anushree's horror drama titled Saithan PG 4

Meet Kovid Kapoor, a Bengaluru-based entrepreneur, whose first name has been inviting a flurry of memes and jokes on social media

GOING VIRAL

SANATH PRASAD

FOR IIT Bombay graduate Kovid Kapoor, life before 2020 was as normal as could be. Until the pandemic hit and the co-founder of Bengaluru-based Holidify.com, a travel planner company, found himself becoming the subject of several memes. Thanks to his first name, Kovid ('d' pronounced as 'd' in darwaza), which is a homophone with the raging virus, Covid.

'Since 1990, Kapoor has been Kovid positive'; 'Kovid having Corona beer'...While social media has been having a field day, the 31-year-old has taken it sportingly. He grabbed the attention of netizens recently when he took to Twitter to explain the reason behind his name. His mother Nupur Kapoor named him Kovid, inspired by a line from the Hanuman Chalisa. Kapoor explains that 'Kovid' means scholar/vidwan where 'vid' comes from 'Vidya' in Hindi.

"Life has changed for me after 2020. My friends started sending me memes about the similarity between my name and the name of the virus. It's funny as to how my name is now enjoying virality. I take the sensation in a light-hearted manner and I've started taking things more sportingly," says Kapoor, who also celebrated his 30th birthday in 2021 with 'Happy Covid-30' written over the cake. "In fact, a spell check of my name always suggests 'Covid,'" he says with a chuckle.

On a visit to Starbucks, the person handing over his coffee pointed out his name to other visitors who then burst into laughter. He also received a call from a car rental customer care executive who admitted that he shared a hearty laugh with his colleagues over the name. His business partners also joke about how 'Kovid' has been responsible for the loss in the tourism sector. Sometimes he has to pull out his government IDs to prove that he is really named 'Kovid'. "One of my favourite memes include some of the references to dialogues like 'Kovid'- Naam Tho Suna Hi Hoga,' and 'My Name is Kovid- and I am not a virus'. Some even messaged me, asking if I had a pet bat at home," he says. Kapoor has also opened his DMs on social media to invite memes related to his name. Kapoor, who was infected with Covid last year, feels that his name is a good 'ice breaker'. "Having this name can initiate good conversations,"says Kapoor.

SCIENCE BEYOND FRONTIERS

OVERCOME JOINT PAIN WITHOUT SURGERY

For many years I suffered from acute knee pain. Various treatments including Allopathy, Homeopathy, Ayurveda, Unani, Siddha Medicine, Tibetan Treatment and Acupuncture only offered temporary relief, as the pain returned. Life was extremely difficult as I suffered unbearable pain. When I came across a newspaper article about treatment of knee pain without surgery at SBF Healthcare and Research Centre (SHRC) I decided to give it a try. Today, even after 14 years of treatment, there has been no recurrence of knee pain. Since then, I have travelled to around 40 countries and gone on treks and hikes," says 70-year-old Padmini Balaram, of Girinagar, Retired Chief Manager, Bank of Baroda. Even at her age she continues to put young people to shame with her energy.

"I had knee and joint pain in both legs. As my knee cartilage degenerated, I found it difficult to walk independently. I was ready to undergo knee replacement surgery as advised by my doctor, when I heard about a cure for knee pain without surgery. After treatment at SHRC, I am completely free from arthritis. I have overcome my sufferings and can walk independently without a walking stick," says Claire Pais.

These are not just the stories of two elderly people; it is the story of thousands. In a meeting held at JW Marriot hotel recently, people who had all suffered pain and undergone treatment at SHRC congregated. Their faces bore an expression of gratitude and joy. SHRC has branches in JP Nagar and Marathahalli in Bengaluru has successfully treated over 10,000 Cases suffering from arthritis.

Many believe that knee replacement is the only solution to overcome knee pain. Late Dr. V.G. Vasishta was a professor of Aerospace Medicine at the Command Hospital in Bengaluru, an allopathic doctor himself, is credited with discovering a cost-effective and safe treatment for arthritis and knee pain without surgery. Sequentially Programmed Magnetic Field (SPMF) therapy and the AKTIS SOMA technology have been developed after years of research.

The AKTIS SOMA is a computer-controlled device that uses programmed magnetic fields. SPMF therapy helps to regenerate the cartilage in the joint which has degenerated with age or as a result of an injury or disease.

Patients suffering are given outpatient treatment for one hour every day for 21 days. This treatment has no adverse effects and can even be recommended for patients with pacemakers, diabetes, osteoporosis or arthritis. Since the electromagnetic frequencies in the AKTIS SOMA machine are a hundred times shorter than MRI and mobile wavelengths, there are no side effects. The treatment is priced affordably and offers 80% success rate. Patients from 34 countries, including former President Pratibha Patil, have received treatment with us. SPMF therapy has been approved by the Indian Medical Research Council (ICMR) and has received patents and international certification including the US.

PERFECT PESTO

INGREDIENTS

- Basil leaves: 2 cups
- Garlic: 5-6 cloves
- Extra virgin olive oil: 1/4 cup
- Neutral vegetable oil: 2 tbsp
- Shelled pistachios or walnuts: 1/3 cup
- Peppercorns: 1/2 tbsp
- Himalayan pink salt: 1 tsp
- Parmesan cheese: 25 g
- Lemon juice: 1 tbsp

METHOD

- Refrigerate olive oil and pistachios in cups. This will keep the temperature low while grinding.
- Smash the garlic cloves and sauté it along with peppercorns in vegetable oil. Chop washed and dried basil leaves, and cut cheese in small pieces.
- Grind the sautéed garlic, peppercorns, pistachios, cheese, salt, lemon juice and oil together.
- Add basil leaves in three batches for smooth blending. Store the pesto in the freezer.

FIT BIT

BABY COBRA POSE

(ARDHA BHUJANGASANA)

Baby Cobra pose is a backbend that strengthens the shoulders and chest while energizing the entire body. Try to master this pose before trying the full expression of Cobra pose (Bhujangasana). Make sure that your lower back is long and your abdominal muscles are engaged. People with lower back pain can keep the lift low. If you have wrist pain, try to bring your hands further in front of you. You can also drop onto your forearms in Sphinx pose. It activates Anahata (heart) Chakra.

STEPS

- Lie face-down, flattening the tops of your feet with toes pointing back. Place your hands under your shoulders, hugging your elbows close to the body.
- Then, engage your legs, pull your belly in and up.
- Inhale, begin to lift your chest off the floor. Roll your shoulder blades into the upper back. Go only to the height that you can maintain.
- Then let your arms be bent, with no weight on the hands yet. Most of the effort should be from the back and legs rather than on the arms. This bent-arm version is called Baby Cobra.
- Exhale and lower your chest and head back to the starting position.
- Repeat this pose two more times. Hold for 5-10 breaths.
- Exhale and lower the body down, rest on your belly or take Child's Pose.

BENEFITS

- Improves blood circulation.
- Regular practice lengthens the spine.
- Strengthens your lower back.
- Improves posture and digestion.
- Opens the chest and shoulders.
- Helps increase spinal flexibility.
- More beneficial for strengthening the shoulders.
- Improves focus.
- Helpful to reduce mild depression, stress and anxiety.
- Helps tone the upper back and strengthens your back and legs so that you can enter Cobra pose without excessive reliance on your arms or lower back.

LIMITATIONS

- People suffering from high blood pressure, carpal tunnel syndrome, severe spinal and neck and back injuries, headaches, and pregnant women should avoid this.
- Lower part of the body must not be raised.
- Divide weight on spine and arms.
- The thumb should touch the chest near the armpit.

‘AWL IS WELL’

THIS week has been upbeat and joyful in many ways. A good reference point would be my sister’s almost miraculous recovery! She now has a bionic heart! A new-age pace-maker has been installed and her Apple watch monitors her heartbeats like a hawk. As she says, it’s the first time her Apple watch spoke to her and warned her she needed emergency medical treatment!

One can say the same about the Cardi-V menace. It raged for two years, until our scientists and doctors firmly got a grip on it and made it into a ‘mere flu’. More than half of our ‘sensible’ population has been vaccinated, and has diluted the ill-effects considerably. No one knows of the long-term ill-effects, but one behaves in a responsible manner one can lick this. In fact it’s quite nice to go out and see people eating and drinking and window shopping. It doesn’t look like a ghost town anymore.

RUBINATIONS

Rubi Chakravarti

Writer, actor and funny girl

I was scrolling through my photos and was quite surprised to see that my week was filled with activity. Of course, visiting my sister who was sitting at her dining table, running her home, children, grandchildren, two daughters-in-law and her staff with a generosity and gregariousness that you always find in her home, was on my agenda too.

I met up with my close friends, corporate hot-shot Parul Thakur, senior VP Brookfield properties, and Sapna Tarneja over lunch at Zen. Madhav Sehgal joined us and three hours of the afternoon vanished in a flash. Vishal Nagpal is my young entrepreneur friend and I adore the way he thinks outside the box. He has never paid attention solely on the monetary side of his ventures, concentrating more on innovation and quality. That naturally brings customers into his restaurant in droves. He invited us to his newest venture, Trippy Goat, to try out his exclusive line of pizzas (developed by ace-chef Abhijit Saha).

I was pleasantly surprised to find a large box of Tishya (Sanskrit for joy and happiness) fragrances at my doorstep. I love things done in style and The Leela Palace always aces it. The launch of their signature fragrance was marked by a very sophisticated party where I was thrilled to see the auld Bengalureans turn up dressed in designer togs, well-coiffured and with their expensive jewellery and handbags competing for attention.

Champagne in hand I watched the proceedings... ‘Awl is well’ after all!

XPRESS FOCUS

‘Being strong in heritage, we have not given up the styles of the past’

C. Krishniah Chetty’s story began in 1869, when Cotha Krishniah Chetty migrated to the then British Cantonment to set up a gems, coloured beads, silversmithing, and gold smithing business. It was located in Narayan Pillai Street, a by-lane close to Commercial Street, known for housing skilled goldsmiths who had experience in the art of jewellery designing. Sensing the opportunities that were created by establishment of a British Cantonment, on a parcel of land given by the Maharaja of Mysore to the British, who acted as a protectionist force, Cotha Krishniah Chetty decided to start a small enterprise. Today, C. Krishniah Chetty, celebrating its 150 years luxury heritage jewellery and the Founders Day month, has grown in size, reputation, and offerings. Dr C. Vinod Hayagriv, Managing Director, 150 Years C Krishniah Chetty Group Of Jewellers speaks about the heritage of the group, the Founders Day offer and adapting with the changing tastes and times.

C. KRISHNIAH CHETTY.
GROUP OF JEWELLERS

Take us through the successful journey of C Krishniah Chetty Group of Jewellers since inception?

It was indeed foresight on part of our founder to establish a fine jewellery business in the heart of the then British Cantonment. This jewellery house was destined to grow and would compete with the jewellers of London, and learn from their stringent standards. His Highness Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wodeyar appointed Cotha Krishniah Chetty as jeweller to the Royal Court in 1910, beginning a golden era for C. Krishniah Chetty. His son, Cotha Audinarayana Chetty forged alliances with many British clients, consolidating the group’s business.

Those days, C. Krishniah Chetty served 21 royal families including the Nizam of Hyderabad, Maharaja of Sandur, Maharaja of Gondal, Maharaja of Dhrangadra, Maharaja of Travancore, Nawab of Savanur, Maharaja of Dharampur, Maharaja of Pudukkottai, Maharaja of Ramnadand among others. Maharaja of Mysore commissioned C. Krishniah Chetty and Sons to make 100(s) of famed pendants of Ghanda Berunda.

The client base today includes business houses, who’s who of the corporate world, members of the legal fraternity, educationists, administrative services, technologies, professionals of all types, consulars, titular heads, expatriates, temples, non-resident Indian families and almost everyone who prefers high quality gems and jewellery.

Crafting, design, and concepts today reflect tech gadgets like diamond studded iPhones, tablets, watches and more. Gem cutting styles have become more specialised with custom cuts. Taral gems take some importance over decoration, and such evolutions shape today’s environment for CKC Group teams.

> We have been actively following world trends in design, and technology infusion. Being strong in heritage, we have not given up the styles of the past, the workmanship standards that has the imagination of all ages of our clientele.
>
> Dr C. Vinod Hayagriv, MD

With a history of 150 years and as proud Bengalureans, we are constantly working on new and exciting projects.

Tell us about the latest offer from C Krishniah Chetty Group Of Jewellers considering this being the Founders Day month.

Celebrating with pomp and gaiety, and gold, silver, and diamond rates starting at Rs.1,869, we are once again making history.

The offer began on 10th February 2022 and ends on 27th February 2022. Gold, Diamond & Silver value will be calculated at ₹ 1,869/- per gm/1869/- per ct/18.69 per gm respectively for 10% of the weight per item, on items above the minimum eligibility criteria (weights) stated below. Balance weight will be calculated on current prevailing rates at time of billing. Minimum eligibility criteria for Gold is net weight over 10 gm per item; Diamond, the total weight (of all slabs) of 1 ct and above per item; and Silver at 500 gm per bill.

How has C Krishniah Chetty Group been able to preserve its heritage of jewellery design, started in 1869, but still change with the demands of time?

We have been actively following world trends in design, and technology infusion. Being strong in heritage, we have not given up the styles of the past, the workmanship standards that has the imagination of all ages of our clientele.

Considering the immense competition in the market, the pandemic and the market fluctuations, how does C Krishniah Chetty Group foresee the future in terms of demand and jewellery prices?

Jewellery, fashion, and looking good will never fade away. The rapid ‘affluentisation’ of India will be the reason exotic design, gems and diamonds will continue to be important growth for us.

We continue to be a luxury company with ears to the ground. We are not funded, or interested in rapid growth. We value core and natural growth. That will help us sustain the high quality and ethical standards we practice.

ANUSHREE'S HORROR FILM ON 'DEVIL WORSHIP' TITLED SAITHAN

SHOOT STARTED
Anushree

CE FEATURES

TV host and actor Anushree is making her comeback with a horror film. The film, directed by Prabhakaran, is titled Saithan. The title was officially unveiled by Aditi Prabhudeva, Bhavana Rao, and dialogue writer Maasti among others on Friday.

The film is produced by director Lohith, who is known for Mummy Save Me. Lohith says that Saithan is the apt title for this film. "The film is about God and demons, and explores the cult of devil worship," he adds. The horror drama, inspired by a few real-life events, is said to be the first attempt in Indian cinema.

Anushree,who has been juggling between her television shows and films, has worked in films like Benki Patna, Uppu Huli Khara, RingMaster, and Tubelight. She has signed Saithan after a gap of 4 years.

The entire film is set in the backdrop of Goa. Saithan marks the debut of DOP Krish Kymal. Nobin Paul, the music director of Devaki and 777 Charlie, will be working on this project.

SHRUTI HAASAN AND MITHUN CHAKRABORTY SHINE IN THIS UNSURPRISING THRILLER

PRIYANKA SUNDAR

BESTSELLER

Cast: Shruti Haasan, Arjan Bajwa, Mithun Chakraborty, Gauahar Khan

Director: Mukul Abhyankar

A twist every minute, a surprise thrown at every turn — that is not what Shruti Haasan's Bestseller thrives on. Billed as a psychological thriller, this Amazon Prime Video original is based on the book The Bestseller She Wrote authored by Ravi Subramaniam. It begins with a fan's obsession for her favourite author and delves deeper into a story that offers insight into the psyche of a purely masochistic selfish man.

Authors are selfish people, and friends of authors often tend to find their names or their characteristics in fiction novels. Are the writers apologetic about it? Is the transgression intentional? The answer lies only with the author.

Bestseller builds its story from the ashes of a successful author's novel. Tahir Wazir (Arjan Bajwa), the lead character in the show, is undergoing a slump for lack of a better word. The truth is, he has no story to tell. After the success of his previous book 'Raand, Saand, Seedi, Sanyasi', title inspired by Kabir's doha 'Raand, Saand, Seedi, Sanyasi, Inse Bache Toh Seve Kashi'. The book hints at Tahir's mindset from the way he uses this phrase. While the word Raand here means widow, Tahir uses it to write about a woman who at some point had to sell her body. The modern connotation is a popular swear word.

Tahir is under pressure because he doesn't have a story that will live up to the expectations of readers and his fans. At this time, he meets a young girl Meetu Mathur (Shruti Haasan), who claims to be his biggest fan. Initially, he is on guard. He even mocks her, because he believes she doesn't have the best intentions. Yet, three scars on this young woman's right wrist — seemingly self-inflicted — interests him. So he gives her his email id and gets a sample chapter from her. Just a sliver of possibility for his next book pushes him to go against his initial thoughts about her. That marks how selfish he is.

Tahir sees Meetu as nothing but a vessel that would inspire him and maybe even give him a story that could make him more famous than his previous book. The moment she mentions that she is from the same town as the one that his previous book was set in, it intrigues him. Something about the way she describes her scars gives him hope. He believes that this fan of his will change his life, which she does. Just not in the way he expects.

The show is split into chapters, attempting to make it seem like an exciting novel. While each chapter reveals a new layer, this is no pageturner. However, Tahir is painted as a self-observed, insensitive, temperamental person, who is uncaring about his partner's achievement. He is someone who belittles his wife Mayanka's (Gauahar Khan) achievements because of his jealousy over her success and creativity. The show captures his downfall and this setup becomes important then because this build-up is what makes his destruction rewarding.

RATING 2.5/5

Now, his downfall comes with a seemingly deranged fan. One who goes to the extent of hurting those close to him. Meetu is the first victim, and with the unwanted attention of this fan, Tahir finds that his life is now upside down. He is unable to ask Meetu the rest of her story, which will ultimately help him complete his book. As his life is unravelling and he is losing control, Tahir is overwhelmed and no one including Mayanka and the investigating CID officer Lokesh Paramanik (Mithun Chakraborty) are able to figure out the motive of this new fan. This fan seems to know more about Tahir than his wife Mayanka, which is how they are able to hack into a fake fan account that Tahir creates as a publicity gimmick. Who wants to destroy Tahir's life and why they do it becomes the reigning question in all their minds but the answer is no surprise.

It lies with Meetu. Her words, from the very beginning, are designed to lure Tahir in. It is meant to seduce him and enthral him to lose his sense. The honey trap is so apparent that there is no space for trust to build from a third person's perspective. So when the surprise drops, to a large extent it is ineffective.

What it does excel in is how it builds Tahir's ego, to the extent where he can see nothing wrong with what he has done in the past, or what he continues to do in the present. He is a monster created from the attention that has been bestowed on him for his talent and until the very end, he refuses to see the error of his ways. There is no sympathy for what he does, and neither is there a redemption arc.

In essence, Bestseller is a predictable vigilante's account. But, with the right pace and episodes being short, predictability doesn't come across as a major obstacle. What does irk are the logical loopholes and minor details that boxes women into set patriarchal roles. Ranade, an assistant officer picking up the dishes after a meal with her boss Paramanik without questions, or requests underlines how there are some tasks that women are expected to do. He also tells her to shut her ears when he wants to swear, continually says "ladies hai" when someone else in the room begins to make rude comments – all under the garb of a quirk -- and this does nothing but undermine Ranade's authority. This also doesn't sit too well in an otherwise decently adapted show.

This show is no 'bestseller' that demands a dedicated space on your bookshelf, but it is that fiction you don't mind reading once in a while.

PACKED WITH LAUGHTER AND SURPRISE

FAMILY PACK

Cast: Likith Shetty, Amrutha Iyengar, Achyuth Kumar, Rangayana Raghu, Padmaja Rao, and Nagabhushan

Director: Arjun Kumar

A SHARADHAA

WHEN Arjun Kumar made his directorial debut with Sankashta Kara Ganapathi, he made it clear that he was not in Sandalwood to conform to norms of script writing -- clearly deviating from the commercial narrative or even romantic comedies in vogue -- embarking on a fresh new take on how romance can surreptitiously blend in with a unique storyline laced with laughter. And with Family Pack, the audience was expecting something divergent, and in a way Arjun does not disappoint.

A light-hearted entertainer, the inner patterns of love and family bonding find expression through the story that revolves around Abhi (Likith Shetty), who grows up in an unpleasant atmosphere -- a nagging mother (Padmaja Rao) and a womanising father (Achyuth Kumar). Likith, who gets into medical college, decides to stay away from his broken family and starts staying single. He falls in love with his fellow student, Bhoomika (Amrutha Iyengar), a social media addict. Sadly, Abhi fails to express his love, and under depression, decides to commit suicide. That is when the twist comes in the form of a ghost, Manjunath/Manjanna (Rangayana Raghu), and he eventually becomes the soul of the story. The ghost goes about helping Abhi at every step. Will it be for good or bad is what this slice-of-life drama is about, coming with subtle messages while managing to tickle your funny bones.

RATING 3/5

A ghost bringing peace and happiness to a family may seem far-fetched, but Arjun makes it relatable. His take on family, their emotional tale treated in a light-hearted manner with all the twists and turns makes one sit through the film. Notable is the connection he brings between the ghost, his past, and present. The director also manages to bring the right cast, and actors like Rangayana Raghu and Achyuth Kumar are the best pick for the respective characters, who nail with their effortless act. Likith and Amrutha Iyengar have a meaty role, and they manage to highlight their performance, although the episodes between Likith and the ghost seem repetitive. Nagabhushan, the character had the potential to get more screen space but has been limited to one or two scenes. The music by Gurukiran holds the film. Yet another outing by PRK production, on Amazon Prime, Family Pack is fun with a message and can be a time pass film at the comfort of your home.

A stubbornly daft hostage thriller

A THURSDAY

Cast: Yami Gautam Dhar, Atul Kulkarni, Neha Dhupia, Dimple Kapadia, Maya Sarao, Karanvir Sharma

Streaming on: Disney+ Hotstar

SHILAJIT MITRA

YAMI Gautam Dhar was torturing terrorists in Uri: The Surgical Strike. Now, in A Thursday, she's the terrorist and the tortured party is us. In both films, the actor's eyes flame up with a sudden unbidden rage. I wonder if she has a mental switch for this: sweet and amiable in one scene, Furiosa in another.

We open on a peaceful Colaba street. It's another day at Little Dots playschool — the kids are frolicking. Their teacher, Naina Jaiswal, who's been on leave, reappears a week in advance. She looks rejuvenated by the break. First, she hugs her pupils and puts on their favourite cartoon. She then locks the front and back doors and shutters the blinds. Is Naina planning a surprise test? Or something worse?

A lot worse. As she tells the cops over the phone, she's taken the 16 toddlers hostage. What's more, she'll kill them one by one if her demands aren't met. These range from the practical (five crores in the bank account) to the utterly wishful and optimistic (a sit-down with the Prime Minister). In a clever move, Dimple Kapadia plays the intervening leader, the actor's stature and easy authority keeping the film in place. But she's also shown to be an 'emotional' PM — which is a lot worse than accidental. Finishing a strategy call, she declares that tomorrow be damned, let's focus on the present. Well, that explains Tenet.

RATING 1.5/5

The film is often loose with information. Naina asks for a senior cop, Javed Khan (Atul Kulkarni), to negotiate with her. When he reaches the scene, he grumbles something about 'encounters'. Why emphasize police apathy when a later reveal is due? The female characters—including Neha Dhupia's pregnant ACP—respond sharply to sexist remarks. It's enough of an indication that this might be linked to the film's central concern.

A Wednesday!, from 2008, was equally unsubtle — but at least it could keep a secret. That film petitioned for swift execution of terror convicts. I'll leave you to guess what A Thursday is all about. Hostage thrillers are a useful genre, capable of pointing up society's flaws. In India, though, they're used heedlessly, and become a conduit for violent revenge fantasies. It's a symptom of our times. I can only dread what 'A Friday' will bring.

BY TWO LOVE

Cast: Dhanveerrah, Sreeleela, Sadhu Kokila, Pavithra Lokesh, Achyuth Kumar, and Rangyana Raghu

Director: Hari Santhosh

BY TWO LOVE IS ALL ABOUT RELATIONSHIP MANAGEMENT

A SHARADHAA

DIRECTOR Hari Santhosh's By Two Love begins as a candy floss drama about two youngsters, who do not believe in friendship, love, or marriage, but still experience the process. The film comes across as a warm comedy blending emotional conflicts, family values, and togetherness...all culminating into a profound message: bringing a family together is not an easy process, but needs time, love, and effort.

The story revolves around Balu (Dhanveerrah), a big-time Sachin Tendulkar fan, who has a problem with his family since his father (Achyuth Kumar) has married for the second time. Then there is Leelu (Sreeleela), who is unhappy with her younger brother's conduct in life. Yet, their mother (Pavithra Lokesh) keeps taking the side of the son. Balu and Leela, hailing from different towns, decide to leave their respective homes and land up in the cosmopolitan city of Bengaluru, looking for jobs. They accidentally meet in a cab and get into a fight. Fortunately or unfortunately, the two land jobs at the same office, a professional matrimonial company.

In the process, they become good friends, and eventually, love blossoms between them. The romantic tale progresses further when Balu and Leelu decide to take their life to the next stage. But the twist comes, when they want to test themselves and find whether they are fit enough to start a family. Their quest leads them to adopt a baby and start a live-in relationship. Initially, life is rosy, but it doesn't stay that way. In the end, they realize that running a family isn't easy. The importance of family strengthening, family relationships, living with elders, and treating them with love and care is the core message that ultimately comes out of By Two Love.

RATING 3/5

Hari Santhosh's film is an urban tale that runs on familiar territory. The entire film, shouldered on the two young actors, is a roller coaster ride. There are certainly a lot of takeaways for today's youngsters. Santhosh manages to tackle topics like ego issues, career growth, love, struggles, compromises, culture, and family relations. Even though the child becomes the film's soul, the director however has not justified the process of adoption.

While the first half breezes through fun and love, it is only post-interval that the film progresses on an emotional note, becomes more of a task, and finally settles with a happy ending.

This is the third film for Dhanveerrah, and the fourth for Sreeleela, and both have shown improvement in acting. Dhanveerrah has played his part well, and it is a delight to watch Sreeleela's performance. Both have maturely handled the episodes involving the kid, and they have managed to keep it natural.

The rest of the actors -- Pavithra Lokesh, Achyuth Kumar, Shivaraj K R Pete, Dharamanna Kadur, Sadhu Kokila, Rangayana Raghu, and Jahangir among others have the right placements. With some good tracks by Ajaneesh Loknath and Mahendra Simha's picturisation, this youthful drama, along its way, teaches the meaning of relationships and responsibilities.
